CONTROVERSY OVER LEAGUE OF NATIONS UNABATED IN SENATE

By J. Bart Campbell.

Washington, July 18.—Republican senators who were to discuss the peace treaty with the president at the White House today as well as those who conferred with him there yesterday, expressed the opinion today that the senate's ratification of the document might be expedited by an agreement that senators be permitted to interpret the disputed provisions in a resolution of ratification.

Administration senators stated that if the senate's proposed interpretations were confined to explanatory ones—and could in no way be construed, technically or otherwise, as actually amending or "reserving" the text of the treaty—they could see no objection to them if they were confined to the Monroe doctrine, the constitutional right of congress to involve the United States in war, immigration, the tariff and other domestic questions. Senator McCumber of North Dakota, a Republican advocate of the League of Nations, who saw the president yesterday but said he regarded his conference with the president as "too confidential to discuss," admitted that he was still of the opinion that the president's desire to have the treaty speedily ratified by the senate might be realized if those senators who opposed it in its present form were allowed to record explanations of how they regarded the league covenant the Shantung settlement and others of its provisions which they have assailed.

The Republican senators who were to see the president today were McNary of Oregon, an uncompromising advocate of the present treaty without amendment or reservation; Kenyon, of Iowa, a Progressive; Capper, of Kansas, and Kellogg of Minnesota, who are both for the league covenant with the minor interpretations discussed with the president yesterday by McCumber, Colt and Nelson.

The president's conferences today were to be the last, at his invitation, until next Tuesday, it was stated at the White House. The president planned a day of comparative rest tomorrow and on Monday he will have "open house" for senators and representatives who may wish to call. On the following day the "invited conferences" will be resumed, it was stated.

It was distinctly understood by McCumber, Colt and Nelson, however, according to the information they communicated to other Republican senators today, that the president was unalterably opposed to the treaty being interpreted in any way that could be construed as textual amendments or as "reservations" such as certain of the more radical republican senators still claim they will be able to fall back on or else prevent the ratification of the treaty.

WASHINGTON IS CENTER OF WORLD SAYS FRENCHMAN

Paris, July 18.—"Washington is the center of the world today," writes Phillippi Millet, an expert on foreign affairs, in the Paris Midi, voicing France's intense interest in the debate in the United States senate on the peace treaty.

"America is a decisive turning point in her history," continued Millet. "She has to decide once for all whether she will not break with Washington's policy of isolation or from now on take a hand in world politics. France is convinced that she will adopt the latter course. We believe whatever the outcome of the senate opposition to the treaty, the American people will back the president when he goes out on a nation wide appeal on behalf of the peace terms. The moment he speaks to the electorate, the senate will have to fall in line."

GROGERS CHARGE EXORBITANT PRICES

Columbus, Ohio, July 18.—Judge Bellamy & Son, Portsmouth, Ohio, grocers, are charged with having charged "exorbitant and unwarranted prices" for groceries furnished to persons held in quarantine at Portsmouth during May, June and July, 1918, in the report of the State Bureau of Accountings and Examiners, made public today.

A finding of $600 is made against this firm, the report showing a comparison of orders and prices charged by Bellamy and nine other Portsmouth grocers, in which it is shown that Bellamy charged two and a third times as much for his goods as the others.

Of a total of $2,134.64 paid by the city for groceries, during the quarantine, $1,342.91 was to Bellamy's credit, he receiving 63 per cent of the total expenditure, although having furnished but 44 per cent of the groceries, the report says.

DEUTCHLAND TO BE WAR SOUVENIR

London, July 18.—The German submarine Deutschland, which made two successful freight-carrying trips to the United States during the war, has been bought by Horatio Bottomley, editor of John Bull, who will place the craft in the London Museum as a permanent souvenir.

The Deutschland, commanded by Captain Paul Koenig, slipped through the British blockade twice, once arriving at Baltimore, and the second time at New London, and both times succeeded in reaching her home port safely.

Her sister craft, the Bremen, was lost on her first attempt to reach this country, and no trace has ever been found of her.

WAR MINISTRY TO DISCUSS KILLING OF FRENCH SOLDIER

Berlin, July 18.—Following a meeting at the war ministry to discuss the killing of Sergeant Mannheim of the French military mission, announcement was made by war office officials that a conciliatory note would be sent to Paris in reply to the French representations demanding a heavy fine for the crime.

The mayor of Berlin has been held blameless by the government, but the chief of police, Herr Ernest, has been summoned to Weimar for examination by the cabinet. The Berlin police are said to be working hard to find the murderer.

Officials of the war office, in discussing the incident, "regretted" the challenging attitude taken by the French government in its note.

UNION LAKE SAILORS BACK UP BIG STRIKE

Cleveland, O., July 18.—Union sailors on the Great Lakes today were actively backing up the strike which has practically tied up Atlantic Coast shipping.

They are refusing to sign on United States shipping board vessels for further than Montreal. According to G. L. Martin, union organizer for the Great Lakes, several vessels are tied up at Montreal because the sailors refused to take them there.

So far only ships built for the United States shipping board on the lakes are affected. Union officials declined to say today whether they would go further in their support of the strike than they have done to date.

JIMMY WILDE IS GIVEN DECISION

London, July 18.—Jimmy Wilde, the flyweight champion, today holds a 20 round decision over Pal Moore, the American bantam of Memphis.

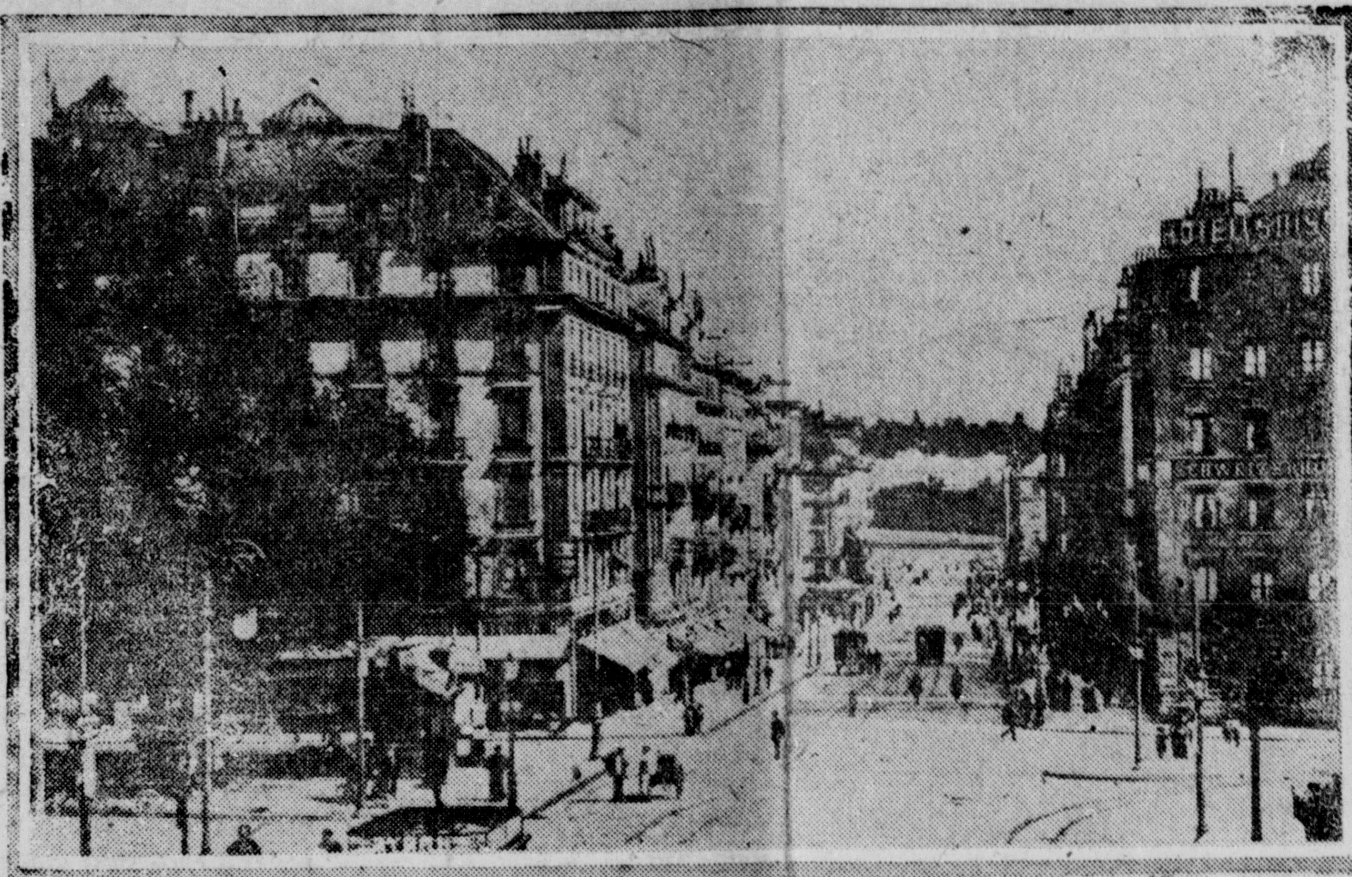

Wilde was awarded the decision by Referee Corri on points. At the end of the 20th round the British boxer was badly used up, bleeding from nose and mouth and visibly weary. The decision was unpopular with the large American contingent, which was included among 20,000 spectators who crowded the Olympia coliseum. General Pershing, the Prince of Wales and Prince Albert were present.

RED DICTATOR OFFERS TO RESIGN

London, July 18.—Bela Kun, the Red dictator of Hungary has offered to resign in favor of the Socialists, in order to avoid military intervention by the allies, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Zurich today quoting the Frankfurter Gazette.

A report was received in Paris yesterday that a revolt had broken out in the Bolshevik army in Hungary.

STREET SCENE IN GENEVA, CHOSEN AS SEAT OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Geneva, Capital of the League of Nations.

Geneva, the ancient Swiss city on the banks of the Rhone, having been chosen as the permanent seat of the League of Nations, may well be termed the "capital of the world." Here the representatives of the various powers will meet to keep the world at peace. Geneva today has perhaps less than one-third the population of Washington, D. C. It has the distinction of being the birth-place of the International Red Cross, and probably is the most popular visiting place for tourists in the world. The photograph shows a street scene in the city looking down the Rue de Mont Blanc.

PROHIBITION AND DAYLIGHT SAVING BILLS BATTLE FOR RIGHT OF WAY

Washington, July 18.—Prohibition enforcement and daylight saving legislation were to battle today for right of way in the house, with the prohibition forces insisting that when they took the floor they should not be forced to give way during the day to daylight saving.

Chairman Haugen of the house agriculture committee, was at work today with his colleagues to bring about an agreement on the daylight saving repeal rider to the agriculture appropriation bill which is held up in his committee but the Democrat members led by Lever of South Carolina were obdurate. They would not consent that there should be a unanimous report from the committee in favor of the bill.

Lever and other Democrats on the committee have favored repeal of the daylight saving law and most of them had voted to override the president's veto, but they balked at the Republican move to force the matter again

With the legislative program in the house unsettled, prohibition leaders were anxious to get final action on the situation broken. Enough votes for passage of the enforcement legislation in drastic form seemed assured, but avowed anti-prohibitionists were beginning to present amendments modifying some features of the bill and other similar amendments were expected to be urged with increasing vehemence and support.

There was a report today that an appeal had gone to Rep. James R. Mann who is in Chicago, from some of the most influential Republican leaders in Congress, to return and take up the Republican leadership in the house.

INDUSTRIES DEPENDENT ON MARINE TRAFFIC FORCED INTO IDLENESS

New York, July 18.—Industries dependent upon marine traffic are gradually being forced into idleness by the strike of Atlantic coast marine workers, and strike leaders predicted today that a million men will be affected if the conflict with the shipping companies is prolonged.

There was no evidence of any break in the deadlock today though G. H. Brown, secretary of the seamen's union, said he thought the strike might be settled within 24 hours. He based his assertion on reports that four Norwegian and two Swedish lines had agreed to grant the eight hour and increased pay demanded by the strikers and he said he believed other companies would follow. Andrew Furuseth, international president of the seamen's union, said there was no settlement in sight and he believed the strike had resolved itself into a finish fight.

The congestion on the piers and in warehouses of the shipping companies is becoming daily more acute. Products of American industry are piling up there and at the railway terminals because there are no ships to move them. It was suggested today that if the strike continues it may be necessary to lay an embargo on freight destined for shipment by boat from New York to prevent a condition of congestion similar to that resulting in an embargo three years ago. Silas Blake Axtel, attorney for the marine unions, said today that a sympathetic strike of Pacific coast and Great Lakes seamen was not improbable.

PRICE OF GLOVES LIKE EVERYTHING ELSE GOING UP

London, July 18.—The Boards of Trade announcement that the restriction on the importation of leather gloves is to be removed has led to hopes in some quarters that the price of gloves in this country will fall. This however is not the opinion of the manager of Messrs. Dent, Allcroft and Co., the famous glove manufacturer.

"The day of the half-a-crown men's glove is gone, at any rate for several years," he said. "The prices now being obtained for gloves in general are two and a half to three and a half times more than pre-war prices, and the reasons for this abnormal rise are not far to seek. The main reason of course is the scarcity of stocks owing to the falling off in the supply of raw skins and leather consequent on the great sacrifice of animal life during the war."

"War operations in Mesopotamia and the Far East completely wiped out the sheep, and while animals slaughtered in normal times give a correspondingly large supply of pelts for gloves this slaughter during the war involved the entire sacrifice of skins."

"In addition to this shortage of skins there is the inevitable question of labor, the cost of which is now far greater than before the war."

WAR HAS EVEN GOTTEN INTO CLERGY

Asbury Park, N. J., July 18.—Peace may reign in the war-torn Europe and Toledo, and brotherly love may be the method used, which the world staggers along, but they don't reign in Asbury Park. War has even gotten into the clergy here.

An attempt made to break the far-famed Jersey blue sky laws by permitting some forms of Sunday sports here brought on all the trouble. In a heated discussion the Rev. H. V. McDuffie, Baptist declared that "Jews and other anti-Christians are responsible for this movement."

"You're a liar," shouted Lewis Tumen, a lawyer.

The Rev. McDuffie didn't parley. He swung. His swing landed on Tumen's jaw. Tumen countered with a right that sent the minister down for almost the full count. Friends separated the two men. The proposition to allow some Sunday sports went through.

HUNDREDS ARE FIGHTING FIRES IN WESTERN STATES

Spokane, Wash., July 18.—Hundreds of fire fighters in western Montana and northern and southern Idaho are battling today to check forest fires that threaten to become the most serious in recent years. The available force of fire fighters so far has proved inadequate to check the fires which are being fanned by strong winds.

In Montana the towns of Alberton and St. Regis are threatened with destruction and at Tarkio thousands of sheep were burned when a fire on Nigger Hill became uncontrollable and trapped the animals.

Farms, towns, livestock and mining properties in southern Idaho are menaced and more than 50,000 acres of timber have burned over. The Weiser and Idaho National parks are endangered. In northern Idaho 400,000,000 feet of timber is menaced near Carter, two ranch houses in the Priest river valley were burned and homes of other ranches throughout the district are threatened.

SAYS T. R. WAS EVER THE FRIEND OF ENGLAND

London, July 18.—"The honor you have bestowed upon me, similar to that which you once conferred upon former President Roosevelt, is of special significance for that great American was ever the friend of Great Britain and her people," declared General J. J. Pershing today when the freedom of the city was presented to him at Guild hall. "This occasion," he added, "is a significant testimony of the sincerity of the sentiment you bear us."

Referring to the sword of honor which was presented to him, General Pershing said:

WILL DETERMINE HOW TO TRY 'EM

Paris, July 18.—The war responsibility commission met today to discuss the character of the tribunal that will try Bulgarian, Turkish and Austrian offenders. It is understood to favor a form of court martial for the various countries. At the same time, the commission is seeking to determine the exact form of the court that is to try the ex-kaizer and the various German "war lords."

The remaining details of the Austrian treaty are still lagging. The "little five" considered certain of the political clauses today. Italy's claims to Austrian concessions at Tien Tsin, China, which were turned down yesterday are understood to have been blocked by the Americans on the ground that they could not sanction the barter of territory.

DECLARES SON IS A "MOON CHILD"

London, July 18.—The father of a boy who was charged with theft at Marylebone Police court said the boy's mind was affected by changes of the moon and at such times he was not fit to take care of himself.

A doctor replied that the boy was mentally defective, but that modern science did not associate this state of mind with the moon.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY.

One year ago today, Marshal Foch launched the great offensive that drove the Germans out of the Chateau Thierry salient, the first of the series of aggressive operations that brought the enemy to his knees. Three American divisions attacked on the opening day and nine American divisions had participated when the salient was wiped out.

The veteran First and Second American divisions, with the famous Moroccan divisions between them bore the brunt of the attack, through the east edge of the forest of Metz. They jumped off at 5:35 a. m. after only an hour's artillery preparation and moved with such strides that the Second advanced five miles in four hours. The 26th division (New England national guard) attacked northwest of Chateau Thierry, captured Torcy, Belleau and reached Bouresches village. The Third division, east of Chateau Thierry on the south bank of the Marne merely marked time on the opening day, joining the attack three days later when the Germans evacuated Chateau Thierry on the north bank of the Marne.

Before the salient was completely wiped out, these American divisions took part in the offensive: 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 26th, (New England) 28th (Pennsylvania), 32nd (Michigan and Wisconsin), 42nd (Rainbow) and 27th (New York national army).

MILLIONAIRE SAILOR WHO IS
"CHAINED" TO NAVY.

Elmer Perkins.

What to do with his money? That is the question that is puzzling Elmer Perkins, a young farmer who enlisted in the navy when the war began. For in his absence from home oil in large quantities was discovered on the eighty-acre tract he bought down near Eastland, Texas, six years ago. The gusher is yielding 6,000 barrels of crude oil, and Perkins' income is about $450,000 a year. "The Millionaire Gob," as they call him on the big liner Imperator, aboard which he is a humble coal passer, recently arrived in New York.

Just before the Imperator left for France on her last eastbound voyage the young Texan received a letter from his parents. It told of the discovery of the gusher on the farm, and urged Elmer to get his release from the navy and hurry home to take charge of the development of the gusher.

But even if he is obliged to complete his full period of enlistment in the navy, he says, he will make the best of it.

"The longer I'm in the navy," he said, "the richer I'll be and maybe when I am out I'll be as rich as Rockefeller. Wouldn't be surprised at all from what the folks down home write. But if I'm not I think I'll be able to worry along on a little old $450,000 a year and do a bit of good with it, too."

CAPTURE TARNOPOL.

London, July 18.—The Polish troops fighting the Ukrainians in Galicia have captured Tarnopol, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Warsaw today.

BOSTON STREET TRAFFIC IS AT A STAND STILL

Boston, July 18.—Complete paralysis of the elevated, subway and street car service in Boston and its suburbs continued today.

The strike of 7,800 union employees of the Boston elevated railway company entered its second day with both sides deadlocked over the selection of a third member of a local arbitration board to take up the car men's wage demands.

A committee of strikers and representatives of the board of five public trustees of the road met at Governor Coolidge's office this forenoon to make an effort to organize an arbitration agency acceptable to both sides.

THEODOROF IS DUE TO ENCOUNTER A RUDE AWAKENING

Paris, July 18.—The Bulgarian peace delegation, headed by Premier Theodorof, which is now enroute to Paris, is bringing the most amazing proposals for territorial aggrandizement yet submitted to the peace conference.

On the principle that the spoils go to the vanquished, Premier Theodorof coolly proposes that Bulgaria deprive her neighbors of territory as follows:

From Roumania, part of Dobruja ceded by Bulgaria under the treaty of 1913, after the second Balkan war. From Jugo-Slavia, part of Servian Macedonia. From Greece, part of Greek Macedonia.

Not content with trying to grab the land of her late enemies, Bulgaria has designs on her former ally Turkey and Premier Theodorof proposes that part of Turkish Thrace be annexed.

"If this is the price of Bulgaria's defeat, what would Bulgaria have claimed if the German allies had been victors," exclaimed one amazed diplomat when he heard of the claims the Bulgarians were to make.

For several months the allied chancelleries have been keeping a watchful eye upon Bulgaria. The Bulgars have been following their traditional policy of waiting for trouble in southeastern Europe in order to attempt to gain some of her neighbors' territory. Following the signing of the armistice in the Balkans last autumn Bulgaria kept 10 infantry divisions and eight cavalry divisions on a war footing and also failed to turn over war materials.

Large bands of Bulgarian bands have ravaged property along the frontiers.

At the same time the Bulgarian government is reported to have been encouraging war between Italy and Jugo-Slavia to enable her to strike another treacherous blow at Serbia. Bulgaria also fomented trouble between Italy and the Greeks in Asia Minor so as to keep the Greeks engaged out of the Balkans.

In consequence of these acts of bad faith, the peace delegates are reserving the most chilly reception for Premier Theodorof, who will be treated with the same scanty courtesy accorded the Turks.

MARSHAL FOCH OFF FOR LONDON

London, July 18.—Marshal Foch generalissimo of the allied armies, arrived from France today to take part in the peace celebration tomorrow. Great crowds cheered the famous soldier as he was driven to the Carlton Hotel.

Field Marshal Haig and scores of other notables greeted the marshal at the railway station and extended formal welcome.

A guard of honor composed of Irish troops accompanied the marshal while bands played the national anthem, the Marseillaise and the March of the Men of Harleth.

KETTERING FLYING TO NEW YORK TO KEEP DINNER ENGAGEMENT

Wichita, Kan., July 18.—C. F. Kettering, president of the Dayton Engineering Laboratories Company of Dayton, Ohio, left here this morning at 7:45 o'clock piloting his own airplane in an attempt to reach New York City in time for dinner this evening.

Kettering flew from Dayton to Wichita yesterday, landing here late yesterday afternoon.

The distance from Wichita to New York as the crow flies is 1,350 miles.

LET HIM KEEP FORTUNE.

WEATHER REPORT

Ohio:—Fair probable tonight and Saturday; not much change in temperature.

FORD GRILLED BY ATTORNEY FOR DEFENSE

BY HARRY REUTLINGER.

Mount Clemens, Mich., July 18.—For the first time since the trial began ten weeks ago, the heart of the Henry Ford-Chicago Tribune libel suit was reached today when the editorial entitled "Ford is an Anarchist" was read in court. Ford, who thinks the publication of the editorial did him $1,000,000 damage, was on the stand and listened quietly to the reading.

In connection with the reading of the editorial Ford asserted his reading of newspapers seldom took him beyond the headlines but declared his belief that a headline should accurately represent the contents of the story. Introduction of the editorial came suddenly when Attorney Elliott Stevenson asked:

"Are you familiar with the editorial captioned 'Ford is an Anarchist?'"

"Well, I've heard it 30 or 40 times," Ford answered.

Stevenson then read the editorial and asked:

"Is there anything in that about throwing bombs?" referring to Ford's definition of an anarchist as a man who would "throw bombs."

Ford's counsel objected to the question and Stevenson said:

"This man says his feelings have been injured and we want him to point out where."

"They printed an editorial captioned 'Ford is an Anarchist' but the story following the title does not bear it out," interposed Judge Murphy, one of the attorneys for Ford.

At this juncture Ford volunteered some information.

"I seldom read beyond the headlines," he said. "However, I believe the truth should be told in the story."

"In back of it?" asked Stevenson.

"Well, behind it, then," retorted Ford.

Stevenson again brought up the "ignorant idealist" question when he inquired of Ford if he was an "ignorant idealist."

"Oh, do you want me to admit that again? If you do, I will," retorted Ford. "It's in the record."

Attorney Luckiner, Ford's counsel, objected and said it was "the easiest thing in the world to get an admission from a retiring, modest man of the Ford type." He followed this with the charge that Stevenson's examination was "the most brutal and inhuman" he had ever heard.

Stevenson replied that Ford "was a very indifferent witness" and that he was conducting a "very considerable" examination.

After the reading of the editorial, the examination swung into the matter of Ford's knowledge of military affairs.

Ford admitted he knew little of military affairs.

"Do you know much about the army?" inquired Stevenson.

"No," answered Ford.

"Yet you were conducting a huge campaign to educate the people relative to over preparedness."

Ford then stated that his campaign in 1916 against over preparedness was for the mere purpose of "taking sides."

"It was for the very purpose of stopping appropriations for the army that you launched that campaign?" Stevenson said.

"No, it wasn't," Ford answered.

"You said so yesterday," Stevenson charged.

"Well, I have said so many things; however, I did that merely to take sides," Ford replied.

Previously Ford had been questioned at length concerning the report submitted to the committee on military affairs in 1916, dealing with the subject of coast defenses which the defense charges was garbled and distorted in a pamphlet "Humanity and Sanity" which was put out by Ford.

The defense is trying to show the responsibility of Ford relative to military matters when he spread his anti-preparedness writings broadcast.

GEORGE D. GEYER GUEST AT STAG PARTY

A dozen young men were guests of Morris Bradford, of Chicago, Thursday evening, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bradford, of Dayton avenue, when he entertained in honor of George D. Geyer, whose marriage will take place early in September.

The guests were nearly all boys who were classmates in Xenia high school in the class of 1916. Most of them were in the army and some were overseas and in action, and they spent the evening exchanging reminiscences of the war, and of camp life. Ice cream and cake were served. The boys gave Mr. Geyer a "shower" and ties, hose, and other articles of male wearing apparel and adornment were received by the honor guest.

Another man took the umbrella, leaving a card after having written on the reverse side: "The man who took this umbrella can run a mile in four minutes and he is not coming back."

Mr. Seedmiller: "Bring me an oyster stew in a hurry." Accomplished waiter—"I will bring it with alacrity, sir." Mr. Seedmiller—"No, you won't. Just bring it plain. I won't pay for no trimmin's."

Typical of Mr. Edison

FOR several years the better makes of phonographs have been offered in specially built period cabinets at prices running into thousands of dollars. The Edison Laboratories reproduced and adapted numerous classic cabinets at prices running up to several thousand dollars.

One day Mr. Edison said to his associates:

"If period cabinets are desired by people who are willing to pay several thousand dollars for an Edison Phonograph, why not put all Edison Phonographs into period cases and let everyone have the best there is in cabinet design?"

Mr. Edison's word is law at the Edison Laboratories. Henceforth (with the exception of two models designed for summer cottages) each New Edison—no matter what its price—will be encased in a period cabinet.

This New Edison line of moderately priced Period Cabinet Phonographs will be exhibited to New York furniture lovers at the Hotel Commodore on June 25th. We now have some of these instruments at our store for your inspection. You are cordially invited to come and see them.

The new line of Edison Period Model Phonographs is priced from $155 to $6000. Worthy of special mention are a Heppelwhite at $155, a Sheraton at $195, a Jacobean at $250, the Official Laboratory Model in Chippendale or William & Mary at $285, an inlaid Sheraton at $300, and an Eighteenth Century English at $450.

THE INSTRUMENT OF QUALITY

Sonora

CLEAR AS A BELL

The Instrument You Want

THE sweet, clear, natural tones can be made strong and resonant, or faint and low, by means of the patented Sonora Tone Control; but whether vigorous or repressed the tone is like crystal, accurate and distinct.

At the Panama-Pacific Exposition it was the Sonora that won the highest score for tone quality against the competition of every other phonograph.

There is a reality, a mellowness, a fine vitality to the Sonora (which plays all makes of disc records perfectly without extra attachments) that place it in a class alone.

LIKE ALLADIN'S LAMP
THING INTO GOLD.

An old author of repute once said:
"Never confide your secrets to paper;
it is like throwing a stone in the air,
you do not know where it will fall."
We suppose he meant in a letter, but
we are so liberal we dare to confide
a secret we have to a printed paper
of large circulation—namely this one.
We are thus generous with our secret
because thousands have found it out
and there is no use being selfish
about it. Yet it is a mighty secret.
It has made untold numbers of people millionaires. Here is this wonderful secret—ADVERTISING IS THE GREATEST FORTUNE MAKING
MEDIUM IN THE WORLD TODAY.
There used to be a contention as to whether merchandizing or manufacturing was the quickest road to wealth. Neither of these is comparatively worth a farthing, unless co-joined with the secret we here impart—liberal advertising, attention diverting advertising, stop-look-and-listen advertising.

Doubtless some of our readers,
even some who belong to church,
have felt like saying "damn it" on occasions when the advertisers insisted on taking more than their share of space. But it is so in all publications, the high priced monthly magazines being no exception, often to more than half of all the space. And some of these advertisements are so handsome, such genuine works of art,
they compel our admiration.

We have recently had at our neighboring city of Dayton such a wonderful instance of the tremendous pulling power of large advertising that it made a whole lot of people sit up and take notice. Everybody knows about the century old Winter's National Bank, of Dayton, how it has gone along "letting nature take its course" in building up a great institution, a mighty bank, with resources on July 1, 1918, of $3,336,228.

At that time the bank made a new departure in their business, opened a Savings Department, and entered upon a system of very large Advertising to boom their business. The result was so tremendous that its telling seems like a fairy story. The telling is by Mr. Howard F. Marston, a Director of the Winter's National Bank, and head of the Mercantile Corporation, the concern which prints
all of the stamped envelopes for the United States Government. On July
1, 1918, the bank occupied the central location where they had been for a generation, but their business increased so rapidly that they had to seek new quarters ten times as large.

Then, July 1, 1918, they had 12 regular bank clerks, now they have 57
regular bank clerks. In six months time they used in the papers 71 full
page advertisements. In six months, up to January 1, 1919, the bank had opened Savings Accounts amounting to more than $600,000, and also 1876
new Commercial Accounts, and their statement showed resources of over $7,124,817, an increase of 113 per cent. In other words they had in six months gained more than had been accomplished in the preceding 104
years of the bank's life.

This is the story of our little secret
we were going to give you—by Advertising. Not necessarily employing full pages, that is simply a question
of how far you want to go beyond using something more than a little so-called card, appearing day after day with no change of copy, no signs of life. Of course some may be willing to stand for one of these cards, going upon the theory that it doesn't cost much and that they couldn't lose much anyway. This illustrates a little story we heard the other day, something like this:

It seems a chap had just purchased a pair of 15-cent suspenders and his friend was trying to tell him "it didn't pay to buy that cheap stuff."
"Well," said the suspender buyer,
"they only cost 15 cents, so even if they are no good I can't lose much."
"No," agreed his friend, "not unless

"CARRYING ON" WITH THE FARM.

"Carry on," a magazine devoted to
the reconstruction of disabled soldiers
and sailors, published for the American Red Cross and edited by the office
of the Surgeon General of the United States Army, has in its current number an article that tells of the successful efforts of the Base Hospital
at Camp Sherman to teach the boys
by practical methods to become better farmers. Starting with a small number of students and with no laboratory equipment, an Agricultural Division was created, with a professor at the Ohio State University, College of Agriculture in charge. The division has had steady growth, 133 students
having enrolled since the start.

This plan of making better farmers appeals to two types of men—those not permanently disabled from doing active farm work and those who, while physically incapacitated for future
manual labor, may train to be farm
managers, farm agents, teachers or
to do civil-service extension work.
The division takes men for training
even before they can stand on their feet, while correspondence courses which lay down a firm foundation for
the actual work that is to come later
are established for the bedridden soldier.

This idea of making better farmers
is a worthy one. Not only does it bring about a quicker and more complete recovery of the soldier, but it
finds congenial employment for him
and at the same time instills a practical knowledge of agriculture that paves the way for successful farming.
Upon successful farms and farming depends in no small way the future
of this country. The agricultural centers are the motive power that propels this nation along its way to greatness, and anything that can be done to make a better, more contented farmer will tend to make this a stronger and greater nation.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS.

WHO COULD SHE BE?

CHAPTER XVI.
"Well did you go through everything?" Everett asked at dinner that night, the second in my new home.
"Yes, and Everett Mrs. Gray
thought I was going to discharge her.
I knew she didn't like me, but I didn't know why until she acted so pleased when I told her I couldn't run this big house, that."
"You told her that she was to remain?"
"Yes, don't you want her?"
"Most certainly. But before you make any contracts with servants or anyone else, please consult me," his voice was sharp, and I knew he was displeased. But why? He had said he most certainly wanted Mrs. Gray to stay. I had told her the same.
Why should he take that tone?"
"Oh, Everett! I'm sorry. I didn't think."
"Please think hereafter." He dismissed the subject, and was delightfully entertaining through the remainder of the dinner. Almost as much so as before I married him. When he was like that I forgot everything
but my pride in him.
We had been married not quite two weeks and already I felt a craving

for companionship, the nearness of one who would understand me. I was infatuated with life, eager for the thrill of my new experience. I longed for sympathy—for love. I wanted to be caressed, to be told I was loved,
over and over, until I was sure of it.
I was often, even in those first days
of my married life, chased by the fear that I was not loved because Everett so charily expressed his feeling for me. He wasn't as demonstrative as father was with mother, and
years.

Everett often talked over my head.
He said things I did not quite grasp,
but I never interrupted him to ask questions. I would often have liked to, but I feared to annoy him.

That night Everett came out. I wanted to ask where he was going,
but waited, thinking he would tell me. He did not, just gave me a careless kiss and said:

"Go to bed in good season."

I returned his kiss, but before I could steady my voice to speak he was gone. I wandered around for-lornly for a while. Then opened the piano and played a little. Both Mrs.
Gray and Hetty had gone out too, or
I should have asked them to talk to
me. I didn't dare go into the kitchen and talk with the cook. Everett had warned me already that his servants
weren't old retainers like ours at home, and that I not only could not make as free with them, but that I must not.

Finally, I went to my room and un-dressed. I slipped on a kimono and sat by the window. It seemed strange that Everett should go out without telling me, his wife, where he was going. Father never did that. He used always to call to mother if she weren't in the room and say:

"I'm going to the club for a little while, I'll be back soon"—or something like that. More and more I began to see that my husband was like father in only one thing: his age.

I could sit still no longer and I wandered into Everett's room. It was separated from mine by a large
dressing room.

At first I walked all around just looking at things, not touching them.
Then I began to handle his toilet articles, so different from the dainty, lovely set he had given me. Just plain, black brushes and other articles. His ties were hung on some sort of board on the inside of his dressing room door. I never had dreamed one man had so many ties, and such lovely ones. Soft lustrous silks that I loved to let slip through my fingers.

He had several photographs on the wall. But none of them interested me particularly. BUT, in his top-drawer, under a pile of handkerchiefs, was one of a very lovely woman, who looked about 30 years old.
She was exquisitely beautiful. The picture was taken in evening dress,

showing the dimpled shoulders and
the perfectly modeled arms. Who could she be? I looked at her a long time. I must ask Everett in the morning. She probably was some relative.

I presume I should have had more pride than to have looked through my husband's things had I been older.
But I was lonely. I didn't feel like reading, and I was not at all sleepy.
So idly I drew out one drawer after another and looked at the contents.
Such quantities of fine underwear
and shirts. "Enough to stock
a store," I muttered to myself. Then,
in turning up the corner of some shirts to see what was underneath, I came upon another picture. I took it out and saw it was another pose of
the same woman whose picture had so interested me—a also a replica of the one in my room.

the Credit.

In gource and quality this signed statement is one of the most convincing on record:

"For twelve years I have had stomach trouble. My digestion was poor and had bloating of the stomach and belching and gas. I was so nervous I would often at night jump out of bed to get relief. My nerves were so affected I could scarcely write a letter. I saw Nerv-Worth advertised in the Portsmouth Times and I decided to try it. I have been taking Nerv-Worth for two months and must say my stomach is getting in fine shape,
so that what I eat agrees with me.
My nerves are getting better and I have gained twenty-two pounds.

"I have doctored and tried many

OUR OWN OHIO

Youngstown—State Senator Davis has withdrawn from the race for the Republican nomination for mayor and announces that he will give his time to his duties as state senator. Harry Dunsbaugh, member of the house from Mahoning county, is a candidate for the nomination for mayor.

Elyria—"Mutt" is the municipal aligator and he has gone on a "hunger strike." While "Mutt" was in the pool at the city hall July 4th, the national was fired over his head, the salute was fired over his head. He dived to the bottom of the pool and stayed for four hours. Now he refuses to eat the pound of hamburger steak which is put before him each day.

Mansfield—The city council has taken favorable action on the increase of salary asked by the police and firemen. The salaries of chief of police and fire chief was raised to $150 a month. The men received $120 a month after three months service.

Bellefontaine—This city is having a hard time in trying to decide what shall be done with the several hundred dollars left from the July Fourth celebration. Harmony existed in every move to make the Fourth a gala day, but there are friendly differences of opinion as to what shall be done with the surplus. The latest suggestion is that it be used for the purpose of building a swimming pool in the city park.

Greenville—Work on Ohio Electric Railway improvements in this city, which was halted by a strike, have been resumed. The company hired other men to take the places of the strikers.

East Liverpool—The Salem board of education is the first to file a petition with the board of election calling for a 1-2 mill levy to be voted on August 12 for school purposes. The East Liverpool board is figuring on a like procedure under the new law.

Akron—The county commissioners have decided to submit a $250,000 bond issue to the voters August 12 for the purpose of erecting a tuberculosis hospital in Summit county.

PAPER PUBLISHED IN 1783 GIVES PEEP INTO EVENTS OF LONG AGO

Can you imagine yourself stepping out on the front veranda in the year 2025 watching the mailman's airplane as he hesitated in mid-air and dropped your daily paper down the shoot into your hands.

Yet people of that far distant day will then feel the same way over a copy of the Xenia Gazette or Republican as readers of the present age feel over the issue of November 7, 1783, of the New York Morning Post, published in that city by Norton and Horner. There are just 136 years between them either way, but let us hope that the 136th year to come will not be just seeing the ending of a great war such as the people were passing through 136 years back and are now.

Printed during a most interesting period of American history, a sort of offspring of the dire days of the post-Revolutionary period, the Morning Post reflects the interest of the times and mirrors the unsettled conditions of the after-war period as a direct comparison with the parallel conditions we are now passing through.

The paper was published at No. 7 Water street between the Coffee House and the Old Slip, and one familiar with New York is hereby dared to tell just where that is today. But remarkable though it is, the far more substantial appearing Coffee House is long since in ruins while the frail little paper has lived to re-appear before the eyes of a curious generation.

On the front page, front column, there are orders published from Headquarters, N. Y., reading as follows: They still use the old form of "f's" for "s's" in that period but they are eliminated here to make the reading easier: "It is the Commander in Chief's order that no person under any pretext whatsoever shall presume to demolish any stone or brick building, or remove any part of the materials of which such building is composed, even though he be the proprietor thereof; nor shall he take down or remove the materials of any wooden house or building, until the board of commissioners for settling and adjusting matters of account, debt etc., shall upon due examination be satisfied that the house and materials belong to the person making such application and that he is under no covenant or engagement repugnant to such removal of which examination minutes are to be kept. Every person concerned in the demolition of stone and brick buildings or in taking down or removing the materials of wooden buildings and not able to produce an act of the said board authorizing the same, which is to be indorsed with the commandant's approval shall be taken up by any civil or military officer and sent to the Provost and punished as the nature of his crime may require."

(Signed) "Ol. De Lacey, Adj. Gen." As there was practically nothing manufactured in the United States at that early date, almost every manufactured article was brought from England and sold immediately upon the arrival of the sailing vessel bearing the merchandise. Therefore there were a number of advertisements such as the following:

BANAN AND BURKE.

Have received by the Nancy that arrived yesterday, after a fast passage from Cork, a parcel of choice New Rose Butter, also a parcel of the best mould candles, which they will dispose of for cash in the most reasonable terms. Application to be made to them at Mr. Kemilton's, No. 197, Water street, near the Coffee House.

A want ad. published in the old paper is given below:

WANTS EMPLOYMENT.

"An industrious young man, a native of Ireland and who is lately arrived from thence, understands the clothing business, and is also an excellent clerk in either counting house, store or plantation, can be well recommended in this city and may be heard at Mr. William Adams' No. 16, Old Slip, N. Y."

"FOURTEEN DOLLARS REWARD"

This is the heading of an advertisement for a servant who had run away. It follows: "Ran away from the subscriber in Philadelphia an indentured servant man, named Patrick Gelson, from Belfast in Ireland; he is a taylor by trade, about five feet seven or eight inches high, stout made, has short brown hair, round full face and a little peck-pitted. Had on, when he went away, a short coat of light pink color, with yellow buttons, and faced with sagathy, the same color, a light drab vest and breeches, a pair of black breeches, mottled brown and white worsted stockings, a fine white shirt marked D. B. and a round imported hat. The subscriber will pay the above reward and all reasonable charges.

David de Bartholt.

N. B.—All masters of vessels and others are forbid to harbor the said servant, as they may expect to be prosecuted.

And finally the following. It must be taken on its merits, and sounds very much like satire:

"This day is published and to be had at the printers: No. 7, in Water street, between the Coffee House and Old Slip, also of Berry and Rogers, No. 35 Hanover Square, the second edition of the very curious trial of Mrs. Elizabeth Williams for Crim. Con. with that truly gallant and amorous son of Neptune, Captain Joseph Peyton, of the Beaver Sloop of War, to which is added a humorous poetical epistle from Mrs. Williams to her husband. This unparalleled trial is replete with the most humorous incidents and cannot fail of affording delectable amusement to all the merry votaries of the Cyprian Goddess. Amor Vincit Omnia."

BRIDE TO BE IS GUEST OF HONOR

Miss Zelpha Dobbins, of Cedarville, who will be a bride this summer, was honor guest at a kitchen shower which was given Thursday afternoon by her sister-in-law, Mrs. O. A. Dobbins, at her country home on the Federal pike.

Garden flowers were used about the rooms, and the shower gifts were arranged on the dining room table, beneath a large white umbrella which was suspended from the chandelier. The umbrella was decked in ruffles of pink and white crepe paper, and strands of pop corn falling over its edge gave the effect of rain.

During the afternoon the guests enjoyed several contests, and they had a merry time telling the fortune of the guest of honor. Brick ice cream and cake were served, the pink and white color arrangement being carried out. Miss Dobbins' sister, Mrs. Denver Wisecup, of Oxford, was a guest at the affair, which was enjoyed by thirty young women.

Miss Dobbins marriage to Sherman Liming of Hamersville, Brown county, will take place this summer, but the date is being kept secret.

Fewer Walking Sticks Used.

Not as much timber is being made into walking sticks as in days gone by. About two generations ago no gentleman was considered fully dressed for the street unless he carried his stick. Now it is almost as unusual to hear of a man being presented with a gold-headed cane as with a silver or tortoise-shell snuff box.

SLAYER OF GIRL AND HIS LOYAL MOTHER.

Harry S. New and Mrs. Lulu Berger.

Los Angeles, July 18.—While a large crowd, mostly women and girls, filled the court room and struggled for admission to the corridor outside, Harry S. New, Jr., confessed slayer of his sweetheart, Freda Lesser, pleaded not guilty to the grand jury indictment charging him with murder in the first degree, before superior Judge G. W. Craig today.

Self-Conquest.

Patience and gentleness are not easy virtues when one is troubled within and buffeted without by the day's trials and demands. There are many times when the taking of a city might mean less to the individual soldier concerned than the conquest of his own spirit and tongue. There are tense days when a carping or unjust word falls on the spirit like a lighted match on tinder; wherefore we should be the more careful to store no tinder for ourselves, and toss no lighted matches at our fellows.

Intelligence.

An intelligent person is supposed to be one of cultivated understanding; a person who has acquired a large store of knowledge, but not necessarily in the schools or colleges, for many highly intelligent persons have been self-educated men and women. Intelligence is a characteristic of the mind rather than of action or manners. There are highly intelligent people who are socially impossible because of self-conceit or boorish manners.

The White Year

By OTILLIA FRANCES PFEIFFER

(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

At the age of twenty-two, acting under an impetuous impulse he could not restrain, Walter Merrill wrote a letter to the girl he loved, confessing his affection and asking that she award him happiness or heartbreak according as she reciprocated his fervent devotion or did not, as the case might be. There came no reply. As if utterly disdainful of his plea, he learned that Myrtle Farr had started away on a visit to a relative at some distance. Merrill was a being of deep sensitiveness. He vanished completely from Bayville and his motive and whereabouts became a mystery to his former friends.

His gloomy face made no new friends, his half-hearted interest in seeking employment discouraged attention. Very soon his surplus money was gone. Idleness led to dissipation. He sank lower and lower, and at the end of a few months was a street wanderer and his companions men of reckless mold.

His eyes were bleared, his clothing in tatters, his gait unsteady, as one day crossing a street the sharp foot of an automobile horn caused him to look up. Two ladies in the machine were agonizedly screaming to their chauffeur. Directly in the path of the auto a little child was rolling her doll carriage. Merrill made a leap. Not a second too soon he snatched the imperiled child from her position, swung her spinning to one side, and himself stumbled and fell.

There was a contact, dull and deadly, and Merrill disappeared under the body of the vehicle. Then as it backed he lay in a pool of blood, his face bruised and cut, his eyes closed and his body rigid.

It was like a transition into a new sphere to the injured man to recover sensibility amid comfort and cleanliness. He was alone in bed in a half-darkened room, but the door communicating with the adjoining apartment was ajar and he could discern that several persons were there. A feminine voice spoke, gentle and quite anxious.

"He will live, doctor?" it intoned. "Oh, yes, there is nothing wrong of a serious nature outside of the lower part of both limbs."

"He can bear removal to a hospital!" began the doctor.

"No," spoke Miss Althea Darrow, and the negative was enforced strongly by her sister, Marcia. "We owe to this man not only money reparation, but sympathy and care. He is poor, perhaps homeless. Slater and I will give him a home until he has entirely recovered."

Some new emotions came to Walter Merrill as he heard himself thus commended. He learned that the two sisters were ladies with means, given to deeds of charity. They lived well, and as he got about in an invalid's chair, a room on the ground floor was fitted up for him. Daily he was wheeled out into the garden. Everybody seemed glad to be of help to him. Kindness toned down his ruggedness and reckless indifference.

At first, until his injured limbs recovered their original strength Merrill acted as chauffeur for his thoughtful patronesses. Then his quick intelligence recommended him to them for a trustworthy position of looking after their property. He attended to rents and repairs, and nothing was more pleasant than the frequent trips from place to place, and very often the little child whose life he had saved was his welcome companion.

One day—Walter Merrill never afterward forgot that eventful occasion—on a business mission he came within a few miles of Bayville. The temptation to see the old town was irresistible. He was driving the machine slowly down a tree-shaded street, when a lad of about sixteen abruptly darted from the sidewalk, shouting his name.

"Oh, Mr. Merrill!" he hailed. "Please—please, stop a moment." Then he added breathlessly: "Oh! you must come to our house right away. Alice wants to see you, and at once."

Merrill well remembered Alice Wayne. She had always evinced a predilection for his company, but love he had never thought of. Merrill wondered at the earnestness of the excited lad. He drove the machine to the Wayne home. His guide led him into the house. Merrill was shocked as he saw upon a couch the girl who had been a blooming beauty when last he had seen her. Disease and suffering had wasted her away, and death was in her face.

An infinite relief was expressed in that face as Alice Wayne clasped the hand of Merrill fervidly. She sent her brother from the room. Then came a confession that amazed her visitor. Alice confessed that she had destroyed a letter Myrtle had given her to mail, the non-arrival of which had started him upon the downward path. When a fatal disease had overcome her she had suffered from incredible remorse. She had sent for Myrtle and had confessed the truth. Now, with feeble breath she insisted on sending for her girl friend, that the great wrong she had wrought should be mended.

All along Myrtle Farr had loved and mourned for Merrill. His confession soon brought about a perfect understanding. Redeemed by his "white year," Myrtle Farr had no fear to enter her from trusting her happiness to his loving care.

CARRIERS SELL MILLION DOLLARS IN WAR STAMPS

H. G. Cooper of Newark Holds Championship Honors For July.

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—The 29 leading carriers in the War Savings Stamp Campaign among the letter carriers of Ohio have sold a total of $471,825 at the beginning of the ninth competitive week, according to the Ohio War Savings Committee. J. G. Cooper of Newark is the state leader, having disposed of $47,645 to July 5. The 50 leading carriers in the state have sold more than $1,000,000 worth of stamps.

In addition to Cooper the leading carriers in order of their sales are: A. H. Flory, Wauseon, $42,540; E. A. Keller, Chillicothe, $39,400; A. L. Vancosall, Ashland, $35,220; William Lutz, Jeromeville, $32,086; O. E. Brumfield, Wellston, $30,440.

PUPILS AFTER $100 SALES OF WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—The period between July 21 and Aug. 9 is to be known as "The Vacation Thrift Committee Hundred Dollar Campaign," during which school children will endeavor to sell War Savings Stamps to $100 buyers. A special effort will be made to secure pledges for the new $100 War Savings Certificates.

School children contesting for prizes are urged to get in touch with chairman of Vacation Thrift Committees to get instructions for entering the campaign.

RICHARD CROKER SUEB BY SON FOR $217,200.

Richard Croker

Richard Croker, noted politician and former leader of Tammany Hall, New York, has been sued by his son, Richard Croker, Jr., for $217,200. Richard, Jr., has filed two judgments against his father in the office of the New York County Clerk, one of $137,181.95 and the other for $80,019. According to young Croker, the larger judgment was rendered for sums said to have been owed by his father for services rendered as his agent and the smaller one for the alleged failure of the former Tammany leader to pay $80,000 of the money withheld by the first Mrs. Croker to Ethel Croker. Mr. Croker, who left recently on a trip to Ireland, did not defend the suit.

BOATING AND BATHING RESUMED AT KILKARE

Boating and bathing at Kilkare Park was resumed Thursday for the first time since the Miami river was polluted by refuse from the Hager Straw Board and Paper Company.

The heavy rains which fell since the stream was filled with the refuse, washed out the channel and carried all the pollution down the river. The water washed over the banks at Kilkare during the storm Tuesday afternoon and the effect was to clean out the stream, the water being as good as ever after the high waters had subsided.

While no order was issued against the boating and swimming the water was in such condition that no one wanted to go in until after the refuse had washed away.

Silks of Seville.
Four hundred years ago the silks of Seville, then the most famous in the world, were exported to all countries, for Spain was the first nation of western Europe to take up silk culture. The climate of Spain is excellent for this industry, and fine silkworms, such as were employed when silk cultivation was at its height, are available in the foothills of the Sierra Nevada, near Granada. This worm has a life of 50 days, and in the first 30 it grows to thousands of times its original weight.

JESS TOO HANDSOME TO LOSE WAS WAY FAIR FAN THOUGHT

Columbus, Ohio, July 17.—She was a fair fan and was interested in the outcome of the big fight.

She stood listening to a big voiced announcer on one of the Columbus street corners.

"Dempsey wins," shouted the announcer.

"It just can't be so," said the fair one as she turned to another fair one who didn't seem to care much about the fight and who seemed to be listening to what the announcer said just because she was waiting her "fanette" friends.

"Why can't it be true," asked the disinterested one.
"Oh, Jess Willard was so good looking, it just can't be true," she said, as she wiped a stray tear from a pretty row of eyelashes.

ANOTHER SECTION OF CITY TO BE OPENED

Through the action of the county commissioners in granting the petition of J. O. Matthews and others for the establishment of a county road, South Monroe street and Lake street, extending from Detroit street to the O. S. and S. O. Home will be connected, and a valuable section adjoining the city opened up.

All expense of opening and building the road will be borne by the property owners and township trustees, and the county will build the bridge across Shawnee creek. Right of way has been obtained from property owners.

It is probable that the section to be opened up by this road, will before many years be included in the city limits, and the establishment of a thoroughfare there will be then a distinct advantage to the city as well as to property owners.

Constellation Lore.
Constellation lore reflects the character of the people who make it. The Egyptians peopled the sky with symbols of their daily thoughts, and the Persians, Greeks, and Romans, coming after, changed the Egyptian constellations to agree with their lives and beliefs. In this manner, during many centuries, some of the original constellations were forgotten, and in a few cases only a name remained associated with certain groups of stars.

Seven Days King.
The "seven days king" was Masaniello (Thomas Aniello), born in 1622. He headed a revolt against the Duke of Arcos, at Naples, July 7, 1647, forced him to abolish the tax on provisions, and for seven days was master of Naples. He was most arrogant and bloodthirsty and was assassinated July 16.

THIS PRETTY GIRL WHO DEFIES AGE USES HOWARD'S BUTTERMILK CREAM TO BEAUTIFY HER COMPLEXION

Tells Sayre & Hemphill and all Good Drug and Department Stores Not to Take Any One's Money Unless this Delightful New Vanishing Cream Quickly Shows a Decided Improvement. Try it today at Our Expense.

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic. The fact that whilst it turns the dull, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crows feet or lines around the mouth, ugly finger nails or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by all of these troubles will quickly disappear with Howard's Cream.

Beautiful actresses say, "A short massage with Buttermilk Cream at night before retiring is all that is necessary."

WILL SHIP AIRPLANE HOME ABOARD SHIP

St. Johns, N. F., July 18.—Captain Frederick P. Raynham whose second attempt late yesterday to "hop off" on the flight to the British Isles, ended disastrously, said today that he probably will ship his damaged Martin-syde plane home on the liner Gram-pain, leaving in a few days and return to England himself.

How Fat Folks May Become Thin

If you are suddenly becoming stout, or if you have been putting on flesh for years, the cause is generally the same—lack of oxygen carrying power of the blood. This trouble occurs mostly in men and women over thirty, but it may be easily treated and without any of the privations most fat people imagine necessary to reduce girth and get a box or two of Phynola. Take five grains after each meal and at bedtime. Wonderful results should be quickly accomplished by this simple treatment.

Be sure however you get the genuine Phynola. It is put up in original sealed packages, is pleasant to take and gives prompt results. Sayre & Hemphill can supply you.

Health and Happiness

Women of today seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. Home duties, church duties, war activities, and the hundred-and-one calls for charitable enterprises soon lead women to overdo. Nervousness, headaches, backaches and female troubles are the inevitable result.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which, added to my weak condition, kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness. Health and happiness? Yes, I have both now."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2843 North Taylor Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of women nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. Avoid them by taking in time

RESERVES ENGAGE NEW MAN TO WORK AT FIRST BASE

John "Monk" Day, who at one time acquired quite a habit of cavorting around first base when he was prominently connected with the late Xenia Shamrocks, will be stationed at the initial corner in the coming conflict with the Washington C. H. Athletics which will be staged in Washington on the coming Sabbath.

The game will be the first contest played by the Reserves away from home this season, marking their inauguration as either a road or home club. The locals have been performing to good crowds all season but in an effort to please the fans arranged for the series with the Fayette county outfit, the second game of the inter-county set-to to be played here in the season.

The affixing of his name to a Reserve contract by "Monk" Day means that Manager Foley is attempting to fill the breach made by the absence of Deacon Bath who was injured in last Sunday's pastime and it is thought, will be out of the affray the balance of the season. "Monk" was formerly the slugging first baseman of the Shamrocks and attained quite a reputation for himself not only with the willow, but also in the field. If he can hit and field like he could when with the kid aggregation he should be a live wire in the lineup.

Stiles, veteran guardian of the key-stone corner will be in the coming fracas after an absence of two weeks and it is expected that one of the strongest combinations of the season will face the Athletics on their own grounds.

Local fans will chafe under the idle day here no doubt, but will watch with interest the outcome of the Reserves on foreign soil.

HOME SERVICE SECRETARY IS KEPT VERY BUSY

Mrs. Lulu C. Quisenberry, newly appointed Red Cross home service secretary for Greene county, has found almost every minute of her time occupied since she has been in Xenia, assisting and giving advice to ex-soldiers and sailors or their families. Her assistant, and visitor, Mrs. David Fitz has also been very busy with the work.

A number of those seeking advice from the home service secretary are the ex-soldiers disabled in the army, who are receiving government vocational training at the C. N. and I. Department of Wilberforce University. There are now about 25 of these men at Wilberforce. The home service department takes no part in this vocational training.

PERMANENT RANK OF GENERAL ASKED FOR GEN. PERSHING

Washington, July 18.—President Wilson this afternoon urged congress to confer the permanent rank of general on General John J. Pershing, commander in chief of the American Expeditionary Forces, and Chief of Staff Peyton C. Marsh, and the permanent rank of Admiral on Admirals William S. Benson, chief of naval operations, and William S. Sims who was in command during the war of American naval forces in European waters.

THREE MAKE ESCAPE FROM REFORMATORY

Mansfield, O.,—Paul Rivers, Cuyahoga county; Walter Wright, Columbiana county, and James Bush, Lucas county, escaped from the Ohio State Reformatory early last evening. Their absence was discovered when the final count was taken at 9:30 o'clock. They had hid out from their cells, made their way into a storage room in the annex, broke through a skylight to the roof and then let themselves down to the ground by means of an improvised rope and under cover of darkness. Officials believe that an automobile was waiting to help them make a getaway as no trace of them has been discovered.

HAGAR BOARD AND PAPER COMPANY PAYS A FINE OF $250

Pleading guilty to the charge of causing certain illegal substances to enter the waters of Massie's creek and the Little Miami River, and destroy the fish in those streams, George Little, as president and general manager of the Hagar Board and Paper Company, paid a fine of $250 and costs which was assessed Friday morning by Justice of the Peace J. E. Jones. This fine is the limit fixed by law. The affidavit was filed by Deputy State Game Warden Karl S. Keller of West Carrollton. Mr. Keller was assisted in making the investigations which resulted in the fixing of the blame for polluting the waters against the paper company by Deputy Game Warden H. L. Monbeck of Moraine City. The game wardens said they found that the gates of the reservoir in which the refuse from the paper mill is kept, were open from 6 o'clock last Saturday evening until 7 o'clock Sunday morning. They did not fix any blame upon any one for opening the gates. Mr. Little said that while in the past a watchman had been maintained at the reservoir only in the day time the company is now providing two men who will guard the big tank day who is connected with the state game warden's office and is an authority upon the question of pollution of streams, expects to come here the first of next week, and confer with Mr. Little regarding the question of disposing of the paper mill refuse in some way which will eliminate the danger of the streams again becoming contaminated and destroying thousands of fish.

CALIFORNIA TO PITTSBURGH AND BACK IS MOTTO DISPLAYED

"Pasadena Cal. to Pittsburgh, Pa., and back." This motto adorns the touring car of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Neckerman of Pasadena, who stopped in Xenia. Friday morning on the last lap of their five weeks journey overland from the Pacific coast. The Neckermans left Pasadena, June 12, enroute to Pittsburgh to see Dr. Neckerman's parents, and his brother, who recently returned from France. They have an entire camping outfit with them in their Reo car, and while they occasionally eat a meal in a city or town through which they are passing, usually they camp by the wayside, unstrap their stove from the compact case in which it rides on the running board, and cook their food in the open. They sleep in the tent they carry with them. Both wear khaki suits and Mrs. Neckerman, who is very slight resembles a young boy in her nifty uniform and hat. They will stop over in Columbus to visit friends and expect to reach Pittsburgh Sunday or Monday. Their big touring car shows the effect of the long trip, and the top is torn. "Kansas wind did that," said Dr. Neckerman.

FLOATING SALOON IS THE LATEST

Los Angeles Cal., July 18.—"Rum hounds" in and near this city are taking hope. A "floating bar"—a ship that will take on its cargo in west Mexican ports, steam northward and lie at anchor three miles off the California shore for the benefit of the thirsty—is the latest project. A former manager of a social club and a former owner of a cafe are said to behind this novel enterprise. By loading the bar at a Mexican port the originators of the plan believe they will be violating no laws.

SEVERAL CHANGES IN PENNSY TRAINS

Several changes in the time schedule of the Pennsylvania Lines are now being announced at the local ticket office.

The morning accommodation to Cincinnati, which has been going at 7:55 a. m., has been moved up to 7:30 a. m. The other morning through train which has been leaving at 8:15 a. m., has been changed to leave at 8:37 a. m.

The only other change is that the 8:10 a. m. extra fare train from New York to St. Louis will not stop here in the future, either to take on or let off passengers. The train will stop at Columbus and Dayton only to let passengers off but will not let passengers on. The train formerly gave both ways services in all three of these cities.

First Daily Paper.

"March 11th was the anniversary of the birth of the first daily paper in England, to wit, the Daily Courant," says the London Morning Post. "It was issued in the year 1702, by 'E. Mallet, against the Ditch in Fleet Street,' and it was cynically said of the worthy pioneer that he was the earliest journalist to show any jealousy for an accurate statement of fact."

Believe Mangrove Walks.

Off the west coast of Africa, where mangroves are very plentiful, the natives have many curious superstitions about the mangrove tree, which is supposed to walk around in the water at night and is thought to be under the direct influence of spirits. These trees are plentiful in the southern states, especially in Florida, where they literally form islands impenetrable to man, but the paradise of water birds.

FATE OF KAISER SOON TO BE KNOWN

Paris, July 17.—The peace conference commission on war responsibility met Thursday and a final decision regarding the fate of the ex-kaiser will be made known in a few days. It is probable that a formal reply to the messages of Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, former German chancellor and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, former German chief of staff, will be delivered within a short time.

CIGARETTE CAUSES A $65,000 FIRE

Toledo, O., July 18.—A cigarette thrown by boys into a pile of oily waste resulted in a $65,000 fire late yesterday in a downtown garage. Thirty-eight automobiles were destroyed.

BELLBROOK

Joseph Black, of the Manhattan hotel, Dayton, spent Wednesday night with his son Roy and family.

The kids of the village were treated liberally to Laurel crackers by the advertising agent of the company Wednesday evening.

According to present plans C. F. Schwartz and Willis Black will start Tuesday on a motor trip to St. Paul, Minn. where they will visit Mr. Schwartz's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ross McClure. During the 10-day stay Mr. Schwartz will visit Chicago on a business deal.

Dorothy, George and Haviland Waier of Dayton are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Winton Taylor.

Ex-Commissioner C. M. Austin's wheat crop made an average of 24 bushels per acre and was promised perfect in quality.

Blackberry hunters can be seen in every nook and corner of the country. The present crop promises to be a smasher of all records for a number of years.

The cool nights of the past week has caused a profound silence to reign over the "old swimmin' hole" south of town.

C. D. and James Crowl received word Wednesday of the death on that day in Dayton of their brother, A. L. Crowl. Mr. Crowl had been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism, but the direct cause of his death was due to a stroke of paralysis which he suffered a few weeks preceding his demise. The deceased was about 65 years of age and had been a resident of Dayton for about 25. He was a resident of Bellbrook and Sugarcreek township the greater part of his life before moving to Dayton. For a number of years he was associated with his wife and son in the millinery business on Ludlow street, Dayton. Of the immediate family, his only son, Leon, survives him, his wife having died a few years since. He also leaves two brothers O. D. and James Crowl, and one sister, Mrs. Anna Peck, now residing in Illinois. Short funeral services will occur at his late residence and burial will be made in Bellbrook cemetery Friday.

Wilson Bumgardner returned this week from Detroit after a month's visit with his son, Harry Bumgardner and family.

Ab Miller is spending a week with his parents near New Carlisle. Township Clerk W. W. Tate spent two days of the past week at his home on the sick list.

Fish in large numbers were rescued from the polluted waters of the Little Miami Tuesday. It is the same old occurrence repeated. We think it about time that something be done to stop this wholesale destruction of so valuable a food.

Mrs. Wardlow, wife of Township Trustee Frank Wardlow, was taken to the Miami Valley hospital Sunday for the purpose of a surgical operation.

Mrs. Maggie Keiter and child of Beavertown, are spending a few days with Mrs. Keiter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Swallow and her sister, Frances.

Lieutenant Howard Tate arrived home last week for a visit with his home folks.

Charles Wilson had his automobile stolen at Spring Valley Monday night. Postmaster G. Val Sims of Spring Valley, was a business caller in the village Wednesday.

Danger Lurks In Summer Foods For Babies

EVERY mother knows the evil effects of summer heat on cow's milk. This danger is equally great to all foods unless carefully kept in a cool place away from insects.

Bad food loses its nourishing value. It causes constipation and diarrhea. These are at best always prevalent in the summer time. They depress the mind and weaken the body, and may cause more serious illness.

The first precaution is to see that the stools are regular and normal. In the case of babies and children, if less than twice a day you may suspect constipation; if more than three times a day, diarrhea. A remedy is then needed that will regulate and tone the bowels, and you will find none safer and better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that millions of mothers constantly have in the house for just such purposes.

A bottle of Syrup Pepsin can be bought at any drug store for 50c and $1, the latter the family size. A free trial bottle can be had by sending your address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 480 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

HALF AS MANY DIVORCE PETITIONS FILED AS MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

Dayton, July 18.—The annual judicial statistical report of Clerk William H. Hanley of Montgomery county completed yesterday by Chief Clerk Harry Miller shows that two marriage licenses are issued in Montgomery county to every divorce case filed here.

The report shows that 2,216 marriage licenses were issued during the year July 1, 1918, to June 30, 1919, against 1,020 divorce petitions filed in the corresponding period.

According to the report, a total of 223 divorce actions were pending July 1, 1918, and a total of 253 cases were pending June 30, 1919. A total of 1,020 divorce cases were filed during the year against 842 cases filed in 1918, showing an increase of 178 cases.

Of the 1,020 divorce cases before the local court of domestic relations, 354 were brought by the husband and 666 by the wife. A total of 890 cases were decided during the year in which 655 decrees were granted, 38 refused and 197 dismissed.

The favorite charge in divorce actions was that of absence and neglect. A total of 723 plaintiffs used that plea last year. Cruelty was charged in 262 cases, unfaithfulness in 20 cases, drunkenness in 5 cases, fraud in one case and miscellaneous charges in nine cases.

The husband received the decree in 211 cases while the wife was given the decree in 444 cases. Children involved in divorce cases were given to the father in 23 cases, to the mother in 99 cases, and to outside parties in 16 cases.

Fines in criminal cases totaled $4,032 of which $200 is reported as "probably collectable." The court costs in criminal cases for the year amounted to $3,875.15, of which $889.78 has been paid into the county treasury.

The report showed a decrease of almost $2,000 in the cost of juries. Grand juries for the year cost Montgomery county a total of $1,510.35; petit juries, $3,716.20 and petit juries in criminal cases $1,076.55 or a total of $6,303.30. The total costs last year was $8,125.55.

The criminal report showed a total of 138 cases pending July 1, 1918, 349 indictments returned during the year and 188 cases pending at the time the report was completed. There were eight indictments returned charging murder in the second degree, four charging manslaughter, 29 assault with intent to kill, four with assault with intent to rob and 22 charging robbery.

In two instances prisoners were convicted of first degree murder, one case was reduced to second degree and one to manslaughter. In one case, that of Ed. Scheidt, charged with the murder of a foreigner at West Carrollton, last November, there was an acquittal.

A total of $5,395 was paid by Montgomery county as attorney fees for the defense of prisoners who were unable to hire counsel. In four cases the amount allowed the attorneys was $500 each.

The state reduced the charge in 43 criminal cases, caused imprisonment in 120 cases and released the defendant under the open docket in 21 cases.

The report of the county coroner for the year ending June 30, 1919, was also made a part of the report and showed a total of 420 inquests held during that time. Homicide was reported in 16 cases, 11 white and five colored. Suicide was reported in 32 cases, 20 white and 12 colored. Accidental death was the verdict in 157 cases in which 149 were white and 8 colored. Deaths from natural or unknown causes during the year totaled 215, of which 188 were white and 27 colored.

Civil action in the common pleas courts of the county showed a slight increase, according to the report. A total of 1,505 cases were pending July 1, 1918, against a total of 1,615 pending June 30, 1919. According to the report 1,791 cases were filed during the year and 1,629 cases disposed of during the year. But 52 cases were appealed to the higher court.

But sixteen cases were pending in the court of appeal July 1, 1918, against 39 cases pending July 1, 1919. Fifty-two cases were filed, 25 cases disposed of and four cases carried to the supreme court.

Mrs. Orval Kincaid and baby and Miss Alma Harshman were guests of her father, Mr. Frank Wagner, and sister, Miss May, in Dayton, Saturday night.

A "surprise" was tendered G. W. Lantz at his beautiful home Tuesday evening in honor of his birthday when quite a crowd of friends and relatives gathered to help him celebrate his natal day. Refreshments were served, and a very pleasant evening was spent. Mr. Lantz was truly very much "surprised" not having received a hint of the affair.

WONDERFUL CHANGE IN CONDITION OF CITY FARM IS MADE

The magic wand of a genie jumping at the touch of a modern Alladin's lamp might have done it, but fact proves that he did not.

A modern fairy waving her star crowned wand through the atmosphere might have engineered the deal, but unless a crowd of work house prisoners can be taken as a bunch of fairies, this mythical maiden had no hand in the matter.

But, nevertheless there is as much difference between the city farm today and the city farm a year and a half ago as there is between its present condition and the Garden of Eden. For work and the expenditure of a little money has transformed the farm of 32 acres on the Towler road into a good place to live and a paying proposition at the same time.

The farm is occupied by Roy Jenks who has charge of the city street cleaning, the city garbage disposal, and the city sewage disposal plant, and he occupies it with his family, paying the city rent for the place. The city, however, reserves several acres, three of which are put in potatoes for the use of the work house and two of which are taken up by the city gravel pit.

The house on the place, which was at one time used as the pest house, has been replastered, papered and painted and renovated and a new barn will be added to the buildings on the place soon, it is thought.

The land has been enriched by the use of the city street dirt on the top of it as a filler, and the entire acreage has been covered with this sort of dirt.

The section formerly occupied by the old disposal plant has also been reclaimed by filling in, and the land is rich now and produces good crops. The land value has been increased since the farm has been improved and from $75 an acre, which price was set on it previous to the reclamation work, it has raised to $150, which it is believed it is easily worth now.

The improvements on the city farm have also helped other lands in that section and farmers living near the place are grateful for the changes, all of which have been done under the supervision and at the direction of City Manager Riddle, since his accession to the head of municipal affairs here.

Doctor: "Your throat is in a very bad state. Have you ever tried gargling with salt water?"

LET 'EM SLIDE

Cleveland, O., July 17.—Hogs took a sensational tumble today. Prices slid from fifty to sixty cents a hundred and prospects were that tomorrow's quotations would see another substantial decline. Experienced buyers on the local market were at a loss to explain the sudden slump after hogs had reached the highest price ever known. The steady demand which kept prices climbing for the past week steadily seemed withdrawn today. Prime heavies brought $22.50 today against $23.10 yesterday.

CORN LOAD HELD LIQUOR.

Clarksburg, W. Va., July 18.—Hunting for chicken thieves. Sheriff Griffin and his deputies became suspicious when a clinking was heard in a load of corn being carried on a one-horse dray. The investigation revealed 144 quarts of contraband whiskey.

ELECTED SUPERINTENDENT

Bucyrus, July 16.—Prof. J. J. Phillips, for three years superintendent of the Gallon schools, has been unanimously chosen superintendent of the Bucyrus schools to succeed Superintendent W. W. Borden, who goes to South Bend, Ind., under a three year contract.

JAMESTOWN

The dates of the Jamestown Chautauqua is the 11, 12 and 13 of August. On Sunday evening, the 10th, there will be a religious union service at the tent, conducted by the manager, who is a minister of the gospel, and never has a Chautauqua program on Sunday. The Radcliffe Chautauqua comes from the Washington, D. C. bureau, and is for three days. The tent will be erected on the school lawn, and Manager C. A. Devoe says the program looks good and interesting. The Sunday evening service will be free.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Bevan had for their guests the first of the week the former's brother, A. C. Bevan, and family, of Wilmington.

Mr. J. H. Ervin, who represents the R. L. Hollings Company, as a solicitor for the eastern part of Greene county, is succeeding nicely. Mr. Ervin is very well acquainted with the people through this section of country, as he has been engaged in the grain and milling business in Jamestown for the past thirteen years, and is regarded as a straight forward business man, and takes time and pains to fairly explain the business basis of the company.

The Rev. Frank Dean will fill the pulpit of the United Presbyterian church on Sunday in the absence of the Rev. W. W. Lorimer, who is at Washington, Pa., spending his vacation.

Mr. Floyd W. James, who has bought an interest in the Jamestown Journal, is moving his family into the A. B. Thomas property on West Main street.

Dr. J. H. French, of Jeffersonville, has decided to locate in Jamestown, and has purchased the beautiful new home of Archie McFarland and will take offices in the Long building on West Main street. Dr. French has recently been discharged from the government service. Mr. McFarland will rent property until early fall, when he and his family will go to Florida and will possibly locate in that state.

Rufus Sanders was taken violently ill on Monday, suffering from a sunstroke. His mother, Mrs. Grace Sanders, who was at Loveland with her mother, Mrs. Boteler, who has been so very ill, hurriedly came home to be with her son.

Mrs. Homer Smith is the guest this week of her sister, Mrs. J. L. Leffel, and family in Springfield.

The Jamestown board of education has employed Mr. Gilbert A. Williams, of Oxford, as principal of the Adams street school in the place of Miss Esther Pryor, of Xenia, who resigned the position, to teach in that city. Miss Dorothy Bell will teach the grades in this school.

Mrs. Alma Laird, who was called to Jamestown on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. M. T. McCreight, has gone to Columbus to meet her son Donald, who has just returned from overseas.

Mrs. George Douglas, of Morrow, is at her daughter's home, Mrs. Robert Swaney, whose little son is seriously ill.

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots. Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful, clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

FAMED APACHE TRIBE HOLDS LAST ENCAMPMENT AT MESCALERA, NEW MEXICO.

Apache Indians held last encampment.

LOCAL DRUGGISTS ALL WASH THEIR HANDS OF THE LIQUOR BUSINESS

Not one of the local drug stores has filed application for a liquor license and they have all washed their hands of all trafficking in the product.

This statement is in justice to the drug men of the city, who although they now have the right to take out a license to merchandise liquor, have turned down all dealing with the booze. Whisky hunting unfortunates, who hope to get a whiff of the alcohol "for medicinal purposes" will be out of luck here as local drug stores will not carry a bit.

In the matter of other drugs containing a large per cent of alcohol, only a reasonable amount of caution can be exercised in dispensing them. Local druggists take the greatest possible care in selling camphor, Jamaica ginger, or other drugs, which are sought for the alcohol they contain, and produce the same effect as whisky or other drink, which depends for its kick on alcohol. Constant drug users or drinkers will not be sold anything of this nature.

The medicinal uses of wines and spirits are explained in a circular issued by A. C. Gilligan, Collector of Internal Revenue of the Cincinnati district, which were received by local druggists. They read: "Physicians may prescribe wines and liquors, for internal use, or alcohol for external uses, but in every such case each prescription shall be in duplicate, and both copies be signed in the physician's handwriting. The quantity prescribed for a single patient at a given time shall not exceed one quart. In no case shall a physician prescribe alcoholic liquors unless the patient is under constant personal supervision."

"All prescriptions shall indicate clearly the name and address of the patient, including street and apartment number, if any, the date when written, the condition of illness for which prescribed, and the name of the pharmacist to whom the prescription is to be presented for filling."

"The physician shall keep a record in which a separate page or pages shall be allotted each patient for whom alcoholic liquors are prescribed, and shall enter therein, under the patient's name and address, the date of each prescription, and the name of the pharmacist filling the same."

Any licensed pharmacist or druggist may fill such prescription (1) if his name appears on the prescription in the physician's hand writing, and (2) if he has made application and received permit, Form 737, in accordance with the provisions of T. D. 2788, and (3) if he has qualified as retail liquor dealer, by the payment of special tax. No such prescription may be refilled.

"Druggists filling these prescriptions shall preserve in a separate, carefully guarded file, one copy of every prescription filled, and once a month shall transmit to the collector of internal revenue a list showing the names of the physicians, the names of the patients, and the total quantity dispensed to each patient during the month. These lists shall be subject to immediate examination and frequent review in the collector's offices, and wherever there is indicated either (1) that a physician is prescribing more than normal quantities or (2) that any patient, through the services of one or more than one physician, is procuring more than a normal quantity, the collector shall report the facts to the Commissioner and the U. S. Attorney."

Pharmacists should refuse to fill prescriptions if they have any reason to believe that physicians are dispensing for other than strictly legitimate medicinal uses, or that a patient is securing, through one or more physicians, quantities in excess of the amount required for legitimate uses. "Wholesale or retail liquor dealers having stocks of wines or liquors on hand, may sell to pharmacists holding permit, upon receipt of order in Form 739 and in conformity with the provisions of T. D. 2788, until their present supplies are exhausted. Such orders may be filled from spirits tax-paid at the $6.40 rate."

"Wholesale or retail liquor dealers who are not licensed druggists or pharmacists will not be permitted to qualify, after their present stocks are exhausted, to deal in either beverage or non-beverage spirits."

"Non-beverage alcohol tax-paid at the rate of $2.20 per gallon may be used in filling prescriptions for spirits of alcohol so medicated or denatured in accordance with existing regulations as to be unfit for beverage use. In filling prescriptions for spirits or alcohol not so medicated or denatured as to render it unfit for beverage use, liquor tax-paid at the rate of $6.40 per gallon only must be used."

It would seem from the above rulings that the entire responsibility for the legitimate use of liquors was being thrown upon the shoulders of the druggists. Surely no sane druggist would attempt to handle this undesirable business under such conditions.

The Old Name for Windle.
English royalty has resided at Windsor castle ever since Edward the Confessor built a hunting lodge just at the place where there came a great curve in the gentle river. In his "Child's Guide to London," Mr. A. A. Methley writes that the old name for the place was Windleshora or Windleshores, which may have meant "Winding shore," from the curve of the river at this point. Other say, however, that the word is derived from the Saxon "Windle," a willow tree.

Playing Cards.
Although it is commonly reported that playing cards were invented in France in 1392 to divert Charles VI, D'Allemagne, a French writer on the subject mentions them as being in use in Belgium in 1379, and probably something analogous to them—marked discs or counters—have been employed in the East from remote antiquity. It is now usually thought that it was in Italy playing cards were first made, about 1370, and at Venice.

PRICE OF BREAD WILL NOT INCREASE HERE AT PRESENT

That the price of bread will not be raised here, at least for a time, was a statement of local bakers, Wednesday, following the announcement that bread had gone up from 9 1/2 to 10 cents per pound loaf in Springfield.

The statement of L. H. Brandewie, president of the Banner Baking Company, of Cincinnati, is cited by local bakers as covering the situation here. Mr. Brandewie said:

"Whether there will be an increase in the price of bread in Cincinnati and other American cities will depend on what price Europe is willing to pay for the new wheat being harvested in the United States."

"Bread is retailed, and has been for some time, at Cincinnati and most other cities, for ten cents a pound loaf. We bakers get 8 1/2 cents for it, but there is scarcely any profit for us at 8 1/2 cents, with flour going up in price as it has been. If Europe pays more than $2.26 the guaranteed price for American wheat, it will mean that we will have to pay more for it; flour will advance and an increase in the price of bread would be the natural result. It remains to be seen what the foreign buyers are going to pay."

In Xenia, bakers are not getting the margin of profit that they are in other places as they sell their product for eight cents. They are fighting a raise now in the face of increased prices on all ingredients especially flour, and they will give no definite statement as to how long they can keep the prices on the present level.

Bakers are now figuring their profit margins as closely as possible, and in turn these profits are continually eaten up by an increased price in commodities.

In the hopes of higher prices, farmers held their $2.26 wheat last season until millers paid them as high as a 90 cent bonus on the grain, which naturally boosted the price of bread to the consumer.

FORMER BELLBROOK CITIZEN IS DEAD

Alexander L. Crowl, a native of Bellbrook, and for years a prominent resident of Dayton, died at the home of his son, Leon Crowl, 1009 Grand avenue, Dayton, Wednesday night, the result of apoplexy with which he was stricken a year ago, while visiting in Sheridan, Wyo.

Mr. Crowl was born in Bellbrook July 3, 1853. He married Miss Ida Soward in 1865, and shortly afterward they moved to Dayton. Mrs. Crowl, who with her husband, for years conducted a high class ready to wear and millinery store, died a few years ago.

In addition to his son, Mr. Crowl is survived by three brothers and two sisters.

Private funeral services will be held Friday at 2:30 at the home, with Rev. Oliver Soward, a nephew of the deceased, officiating. Burial will be made in Bellbrook.

INVITES ALLIES TO MARCH INTO BUDAPEST

Milan, July 18.—Julius Karolyi, head of the anti-Bolshevik government in Hungary, has resigned and has been succeeded by Desidrie Abraham who has requested the allies to march into Budapest, said a dispatch from Belgrade today.

It was not generally known that an anti-Bolshevik government existed in Hungary as Bela Kun, the red dictator, has been exercising all administrative powers at Budapest. Count Michael Karolyi was president of the Hungarian republic up to March 22, when he resigned opening the way for the Bolshevik coup.

ATTEMPT TO REDUCE THE COST OF LIVING

Paris, July 18.—The government's attempt to reduce the high cost of living by establishing cheap restaurants with fixed prices, doubling the number of government booths where food may be bought cheaply and organizing a campaign against speculation in food supplies, met with general approval except from the Socialists today.

The Socialist press demands the removal of all restrictions on importation of foodstuffs from the United States and other countries.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

The Dayton and Xenia Traction Company which proposes the building of an electric line to Dayton and also a branch line from Zimmerman, connecting Bellbrook, Spring Valley and the direction of Wilmington, is not favored here by a citizens committee of residents of Dayton and Main streets. The committee discourages the granting of a franchise to this company because it will connect Xenia with no point but Dayton, will bring no trade to Xenia, will carry to Dayton trade of Bellbrook, Spring Valley, New Burlington which have hitherto traded in Xenia; will not help defray expense of lighting Main and Dayton streets; offers probably nothing for the valuable franchise for 25 years.

Charlie Christie, a Xenia boy, who for a number of years has been identified with the newspapers of Cincinnati, recently severed his connection with the Commercial Tribune, of which he has been managing editor. He will probably locate in California.

Since Fred Kelly returned from camp at Gosh, he seems to have a great desire to see the old camp, and has purchased a ten trip ticket between the two points. The boys say that owing to some attraction there Fred could scarcely tear himself away from the place.

THE ORATOR.
While it sometimes seems that oratory is now a lost art, we are of the opinion that it is an art that never can be lost. We shall have great orators again. The names and the memories of Demosthenes, Cicero, Paul, Webster and Ingersoll are not forgotten, nor are they likely to be. While the human heart leaps with joy or sinks with sorrow, the orator's forum will be preserved and his power will endure.

CONTROVERSY OVER LEAGUE OF NATIONS UNABATED IN SENATE

By J. Bart Campbell.

Washington, July 18.—Republican senators who were to discuss the peace treaty with the president at the White House today as well as those who were to discuss the treaty yesterday, expressed the opinion today that the senate's ratification of the document might be expedited by an agreement that senators be permitted to interpret the senate's acceptance of certain of the disputed provisions in a resolution of ratification.

Administration senators stated that if the senate's proposed interpretations were confined to explanatory ones—and could in no way be construed, technically or otherwise, as actually amending or "reserving" the text of the treaty—they could see no objection to them if they were confined to the Monroe Doctrine, the constitutional right of congress to involve the United States in war, immigration, the tariff and other domestic questions. Senator McCumber of North Dakota, a Republican advocate of the League of Nations, who saw the president yesterday but said he regarded his conference with the president as "too confidential to discuss" admitted that he was still of the opinion that the president's desire to have the treaty speedily ratified by the senate might be realized if those senators who opposed it in its present form were allowed to record explanations of how they regarded the league covenant the Shantung settlement and others of its provisions which they have assailed.

The Republican senators who were to see the president today were McNary of Oregon, an uncompromising advocate of the present treaty without amendment or reservation; Kenyon, of Iowa, a Progressive; Capper, of Kansas, and Kellogg of Minnesota, who are both for the league covenant with the minor interpretations discussed with the president yesterday by McCumber, Colt and Nelson.

The president's conferences today were to be the last, at his invitation, until next Tuesday, it was stated at the White House. The president planned a day of comparative rest tomorrow and on Monday he will have "open house" for senators and representatives who may wish to call. On the following day the "invited conferences" will be resumed, it was stated.

It was distinctly understood by McCumber, Colt and Nelson, however, according to the information they communicated to other Republican senators today, that the president was unalterably opposed to the treaty being interpreted in any way that could be construed as textual amendments or as "reservations" such as certain of the more radical republican senators still claim they will be able to fall back on or else prevent the ratification of the treaty.

WASHINGTON IS CENTER OF WORLD SAYS FRENCHMAN

Paris, July 18.—"Washington is the center of the world today," writes Phillippi Millet, an expert on foreign affairs, in the Paris Midi, voicing France's intense interest in the debate in the United States senate on the peace treaty.

"America is a the decisive turning point in her history," continued Millet. "She has to decide once for all whether she will not break with Washington's policy of isolation or from now on take a hand in world politics. France is convinced that she will adopt the latter course. We believe whatever the outcome of the senate opposition to the treaty, the American people will back the president when he goes out on a nation wide appeal on behalf of the peace terms. The moment he speaks to the electorate, the senate will have to fall in line."

GROGERS CHARGE EXORBITANT PRICES

Columbus, Ohio, July 18.—Judge Bellamy & Son, Portsmouth, Ohio, grocers, are charged with having charged "exorbitant and unwarranted prices" for groceries furnished to persons held in quarantine at Portsmouth during May, June and July, 1918, in the report of the State Bureau of Accountings and Examiners, made public today.

A finding of $600 is made against this firm, the report showing a comparison of orders and prices charged by Bellamy and nine other Portsmouth grocers, in which it is shown that Bellamy charged two and a third times as much for his goods as the others.

Of a total of $2,134.64 paid by the city for groceries, during the quarantine, $1,342.91 was to Bellamy's credit, he receiving 63 per cent of the total expenditure, although having furnished but 44 per cent of the groceries, the report says.

DEUTCHLAND TO BE WAR SOUVENIR

London, July 18.—The German submarine Deutschland, which made two successful freight-carrying trips to the United States during the war, has been bought by Horatio Bottomley, editor of John Bull, who will place the craft in the London Museum as a permanent souvenir.

The Deutschland, commanded by Captain Paul Koenig, slipped through the British blockade twice, once arriving at Baltimore, and the second time at New London, and both times succeeded in reaching her home port safely.

Her sister craft, the Bremen, was lost on her first attempt to reach this country, and no trace has ever been found of her.

WAR MINISTRY TO DISCUSS KILLING OF FRENCH SOLDIER

Berlin, July 18.—Following a meeting at the war ministry to discuss the killing of Sergeant Mannheim of the French military mission, announcement was made by war office officials that a conciliatory note would be sent to Paris in reply to the French representations demanding a heavy fine for the crime.

The mayor of Berlin has been held blameless by the government, but the chief of police, Herr Ernest, has been summoned to Weimar for examination by the cabinet. The Berlin police are said to be working hard to find the murderer.

Officials of the war office, in discussing the incident, "regretted" the challenging attitude taken by the French government in its note.

UNION LAKE SAILORS BACK UP BIG STRIKE

Cleveland, O., July 18.—Union sailors on the Great Lakes today were actively backing up the strike which has practically tied up Atlantic Coast shipping.

They are refusing to sign on United States shipping board vessels for further than Montreal. According to G. L. Martin, union organizer for the Great Lakes, several vessels are tied up at Montreal because the sailors refused to take them further.

So far only ships built for the United States shipping board on the lakes are affected. Union officials declined to say today whether they would go further in their support of the strike than they have done to date.

JIMMY WILDE IS GIVEN DECISION

London, July 18.—Jimmy Wilde, the flyweight champion, today holds a 20 round decision over Pal Moore, the American bantam of Memphis.

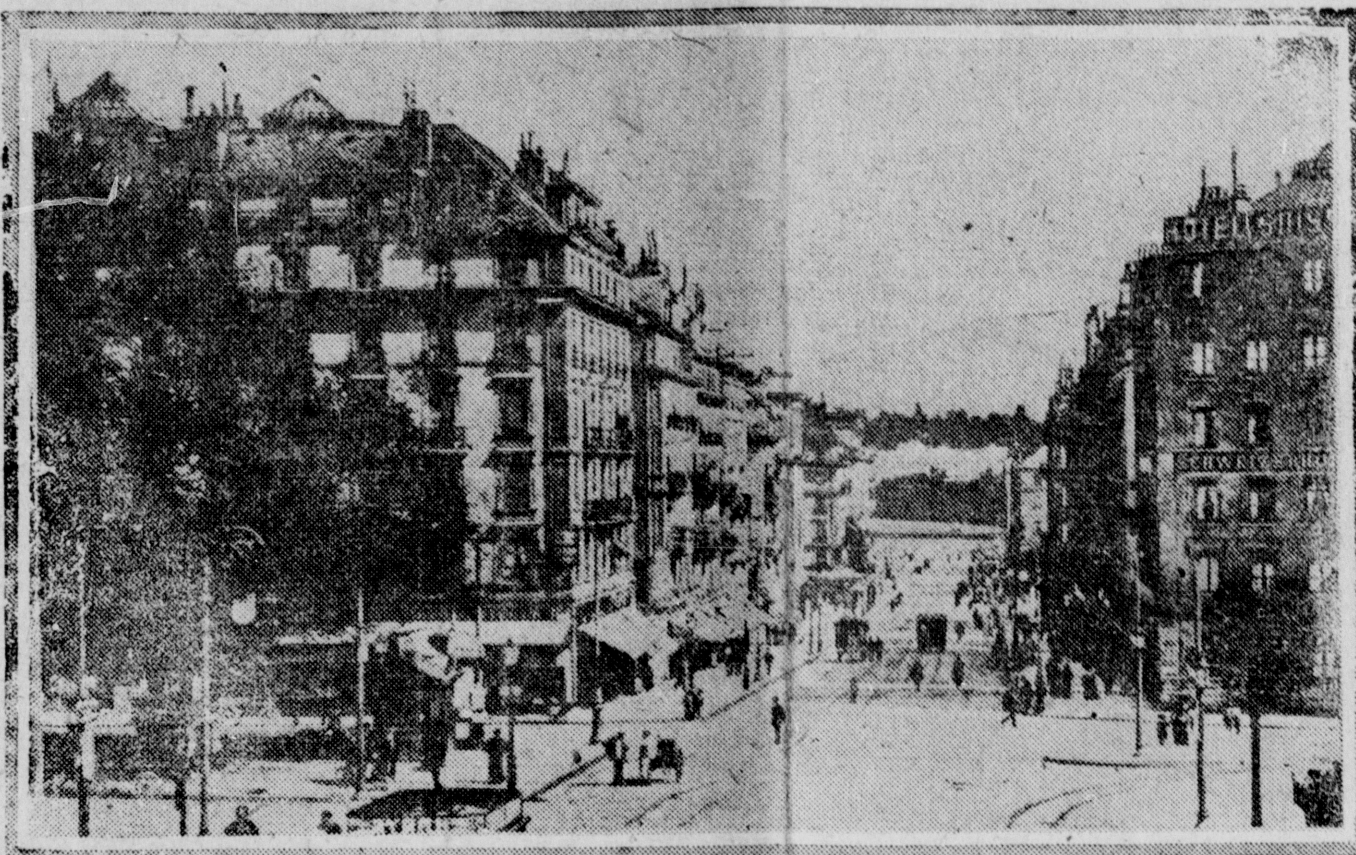

Wilde was awarded the decision by Referee Corri on points. At the end of the 20th round the British boxer was badly used up, bleeding from nose and mouth and visibly weary. The decision was unpopular with the large American contingent, which was included among 20,000 spectators who crowded the Olympia coliseum. General Pershing, the Prince of Wales and Prince Albert were present.

RED DICTATOR OFFERS TO RESIGN

London, July 18.—Bela Kun, the Red dictator of Hungary has offered to resign in favor of the Socialists, in order to avoid military intervention by the allies, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Zurich today quoting the Frankfurter Gazette.

A report was received in Paris yesterday that a revolt had broken out in the Bolshevik army in Hungary.

STREET SCENE IN GENEVA, CHOSEN AS SEAT OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Geneva, Capital of the League of Nations.

Geneva, the ancient Swiss city on the banks of the Rhone, having been chosen as the permanent seat of the League of Nations, may well be termed the "capital of the world." Here the representatives of the various powers will meet to keep the world at peace. Geneva today has perhaps less than one-third the population of Washington, D. C. It has the distinction of being the birth-place of the International Red Cross, and probably is the most popular visiting place for tourists in the world. The photograph shows a street scene in the city looking down the Rue d e Mont Blanc.

PROHIBITION AND DAYLIGHT SAVING BILLS BATTLE FOR RIGHT OF WAY

Washington, July 18.—Prohibition enforcement and daylight saving legislation were to battle today for right of way in the house, with the prohibition forces insisting that when they took the floor they should not be forced to give way during the day to daylight saving.

Chairman Haugen of the house agriculture committee, was at work today with his colleagues to bring about an agreement on the daylight saving repeal rider to the agriculture appropriation bill which is held up in his committee but the Democrat members led by Lever of South Carolina were obdurate. They would not consent that there should be a unanimous report from the committee in favor of the bill.

Lever and other Democrats on the committee have favored repeal of the daylight saving law and most of them had voted to override the president's veto, but they balked at the Republican move to force the matter again

upon the president. Facing this situation Republican members of the house agriculture committee doubted the wisdom of trying to force this legislation.

With the legislative program in the house unsettled, prohibition leaders were anxious to get final action on their bill, fearing their forces might be caught in the swirl and their grips on the situation broken. Enough votes for passage of the enforcement legislation in drastic form seemed assured, but avowed anti-prohibitionists were beginning to present amendments modifying some features of the bill and other similar amendments were expected to be urged with increasing vehemence and support.

There was a report today that an appeal had gone to Rep. James R. Mann who is in Chicago, from some of the most influential Republican leaders in Congress, to return and take up the Republican leadership in the house.

INDUSTRIES DEPENDENT ON MARINE TRAFFIC FORCED INTO IDLENESS

New York, July 18.—Industries dependent upon marine traffic are gradually being forced into idleness by the strike of Atlantic coast marine workers, and strike leaders predicted today that a million men will be affected if the conflict with the shipping companies is prolonged.

There was no evidence of any break in the deadlock today though G. H. Brown, secretary of the seamen's union, said he thought the strike might be settled within 24 hours. He based his assertion on reports that four Norwegian and two Swedish lines had agreed to grant the eight hour and increased pay demanded by the strikers and he said he believed other companies would follow. Andrew Furuseth, international president of the seamen's union, said there was no settlement in sight and he believed the strike had resolved itself into a finish fight.

The congestion on the piers and in warehouses of the shipping companies is becoming daily more acute. Products of American industry are piling up there and at the railway terminals because there are no ships to move them. It was suggested today that if the strike continues it may be necessary to lay an embargo on freight destined for shipment by boat from New York to prevent a condition of congestion similar to that resulting in an embargo three years ago.

Silas Blake Axtel, attorney for the marine unions, said today that a sympathetic strike of Pacific coast and Great Lakes seamen was not improbable.

There is the inevitable question of labor, the cost of which is now far greater than before the war."

Summing up the situation the manager of Dent's remarked that he thought prices had now reached their highest but that any material fall was unlikely for two or three years.

London, July 18.—The Boards of Trade announcement that the restriction on the importation of leather gloves is to be removed has led to hopes in some quarters that the price of gloves in this country will fall. This however is not the opinion of the manager of Messrs. Dent, Allcroft and Co., the famous glove manufacturers.

"The day of the half-a-crown men's glove is gone, at any rate for several years," he said. "The prices now being obtained for gloves in general are two and a half to three and a half times more than pre-war prices, and the reasons for this abnormal rise are not far to seek. The main reason of course is the scarcity of stocks owing to the falling off in the supply of raw skins and leather consequent on the great sacrifice of animal life during the war."

"War operations in Mesopotamia and the Far East completely wiped out the sheep, and while animals slaughtered in normal times give a correspondingly large supply of pelts for gloves this slaughter during the war involved the entire sacrifice of skins."

HUNDREDS ARE FIGHTING FIRES IN WESTERN STATES

Spokane, Wash., July 18.—Hundreds of fire fighters in western Montana and northern and southern Idaho are battling today to check forest fires that threaten to become the most serious in recent years. The available force of fire fighters so far has proved inadequate to check the fires which are being fanned by strong winds.

In Montana the towns of Alberton and St. Regis are threatened with destruction and at Tarkio thousands of sheep were burned when a fire on Nigger Hill became uncontrollable and trapped the animals.

Farms, towns, livestock and mining properties in southern Idaho are menaced and more than 50,000 acres of timber have burned over. The Weiser and Idaho National parks are endangered. In northern Idaho 400,000,000 feet of timber is menaced near Carter, two ranch houses in the Priest river valley were burned and homes of other ranches throughout the district are threatened.

SAYS T. R. WAS EVER THE FRIEND OF ENGLAND

London, July 18.—"The honor you have bestowed upon me, similar to that which you once conferred upon former President Roosevelt, is of special significance for that great American was ever the friend of Great Britain and her people," declared General J. J. Pershing today when the freedom of the city was presented to him at Guild hall. "This occasion," he added, "is significant testimony of the sincerity of the sentiment you bear us."

Referring to the sword of honor which was presented to him, General Pershing said:

WILL DETERMINE HOW TO TRY 'EM

Paris, July 18.—The war responsibility commission met today to discuss the character of the tribunal that will try Bulgarian, Turkish and Austrian offenders. It is understood to favor a form of court martial for the various countries. At the same time, the commission is seeking to determine the exact form of the court that is to try the ex-kaiser and the various German "war lords."

The remaining details of the Austrian treaty are still lagging. The "little five" considered certain of the political clauses today. Italy's claims to Austrian concessions at Tien Tsin, China, which were turned down yesterday are understood to have been blocked by the Americans on the ground that they could not sanction the barter of territory.

DECLARES SON IS A "MOON CHILD"

London, July 18.—The father of a boy who was charged with theft at Marylebone Police court said the boy's mind was affected by changes of the moon and at such times he was not fit to take care of himself.

A doctor replied that the boy was mentally defective, but that modern science did not associate this state of mind with the moon.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY.

One year ago today, Marshal Foch launched the great offensive that drove the Germans out of the Chateau Thierry salient, the first of the series of aggressive operations that brought the enemy to his knees. Three American divisions attacked on the opening day and nine American divisions had participated when the salient was wiped out.

The veteran First and Second American divisions, with the famous Moroccan divisions between them bore the brunt of the attack, through the east-edge of the forest of Metz. They jumped off at 5:35 a. m. after only an hour's artillery preparation and moved with such strides that the Second advanced five miles in four hours. The 26th division (New England national guard) attacked northwest of Chateau Thierry, captured Torcy, Belleau and reached Bovesches village. The Third division, east of Chateau Thierry on the south bank of the Marne merely marked time on the opening day, joining the attack three days later when the Germans evacuated Chateau Thierry on the north bank of the Marne.

MILLIONAIRE SAILOR WHO IS "CHAINED" TO NAVY.

What to do with his money? That is the question that is puzzling Eli L. Perkins, a young farmer who enlisted in the navy when the war began. For in his absence from home oil in large quantities was discovered on the eighty-acre tract he bought down near Eastland, Texas, six years ago. The gusher is yielding 6,000 barrels of crude oil, and Perkins' income is about $450,000 a year. "The Millionaire Gob," as they call him on the big liner Imperator, aboard which he is a humble coal passer, recently arrived in New York.

Just before the Imperator left for France on her last eastbound voyage the young Texan received a letter from his parents. It told of the discovery of the gusher on the farm, and urged Eli to get his release from the navy and hurry home to take charge of the development of the gusher.

But even if he is obliged to complete his full period of enlistment in the navy, he says, he will make the best of it.

"The longer I'm in the navy," he said, "the richer I'll be and maybe when I am out I'll be as rich as Rockefeller. Wouldn't be surprised at all from what the folks down home write. But if I'm not I think I'll be able to worry along on a little old $450,000 a year and do a bit of good with it, too."

CAPTURE TARNOPOL.

London, July 18.—The Polish troops fighting the Ukrainians in Galicia have captured Tarnopol, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Warsaw today.

BOSTON STREET TRAFFIC IS AT A STAND STILL

Boston, July 18.—Complete paralysis of the elevated, subway and street car service in Boston and its suburbs continued today.

The strike of 7,600 union employees of the Boston elevated railway company entered its second day with both sides deadlocked over the selection of a third member of a local arbitration board to take up the car men's wage demands.

A committee of strikers and representatives of the board of five public trustees of the road met at Governor Coolidge's office this forenoon to make an effort to organize an arbitration agency acceptable to both sides.

THEODOROF IS DUE TO ENCOUNTER A RUDE AWAKENING

Paris, July 18.—The Bulgarian peace delegation, headed by Premier Theodorof, which is now enroute to Paris, is bringing the most amazing proposals for territorial aggrandizement yet submitted to the peace conference.

On the principle that the spoils go to the vanquished, Premier Theodorof coolly proposes that Bulgaria deprive her neighbors of territory as follows:

From Roumania, part of Dobruja ceded by Bulgaria under the treaty of 1913, after the second Balkan war.

From Jugo-Slavia, part of Servian Macedonia.

From Greece, part of Greek Macedonia.

Not content with trying to grab the land of her late enemies, Bulgaria has designs on her former ally Turkey and Premier Theodorof proposes that part of Turkish Thrace be annexed.

"If this is the price of Bulgaria's defeat, what would Bulgaria have claimed if the German allies had been victors," exclaimed one amazed diplomat when he heard of the claims the Bulgarians were to make.

For several months the allied chancelleries have been keeping a watchful eye upon Bulgaria. The Bulgars have been following their traditional policy of waiting for trouble in southeastern Europe in order to attempt to gain some of her neighbors' territory.

Following the signing of the armistice in the Balkans last autumn Bulgaria kept 10 infantry divisions and eight cavalry divisions on a war footing and also failed to turn over war materials.

Large bands of Bulgarian bands have ravaged property along the frontiers.

At the same time the Bulgarian government is reported to have been encouraging war between Italy and Jugo-Slavia to enable her to strike another treacherous blow at Serbia. Bulgaria also fomented trouble between Italy and the Greeks in Asia Minor so as to keep the Greeks engaged out of the Balkans.

In consequence of these acts of bad faith, the peace delegates are reserving the most chilly reception for Premier Theodorof, who will be treated with the same scanty courtesy accorded the Turks.

MARSHAL FOCH OFF FOR LONDON

London, July 18.—Marshal Foch generalissimo of the allied armies, arrived from France today to take part in the peace celebration tomorrow. Great crowds cheered the famous soldier as he was driven to the Carlton Hotel.

Field Marshal Haig and scores of other notables greeted the marshal at the railway station and extended formal welcome.

A guard of honor composed of Irish troops accompanied the marshal while bands played the national anthem, the Marseillaise and the March of the Men of Harlech.

KETTERING FLYING TO NEW YORK TO KEEP DINNER ENGAGEMENT

Wichita, Kan., July 18.—C. F. Kettering, president of the Dayton Engineering Laboratories Company of Dayton, Ohio, left here this morning at 7:45 o'clock piloting his own airplane in an attempt to reach New York City in time for dinner this evening.

Kettering flew from Dayton to Wichita yesterday, landing here late yesterday afternoon.

The distance from Wichita to New York as the crow flies is 1,350 miles.

LET HIM KEEP FORTUNE.

FORD GRILLED BY ATTORNEY FOR DEFENSE

BY HARRY REUTLINGER.

Mount Clemens, Mich., July 18.—For the first time since the trial began ten weeks ago, the heart of the Henry Ford-Chicago Tribune libel suit was reached today when the editorial entitled "Ford is an Anarchist" was read in court. Ford, who thinks the publication of the editorial did him $1,000,000 damage, was on the stand and listened quietly to the reading.

In connection with the reading of the editorial Ford asserted his reading of newspapers seldom took him beyond the headlines but declared his belief that a headline should accurately represent the contents of the story. Introduction of the editorial came suddenly when Attorney Elliott Stevenson asked:

"Are you familiar with the editorial captioned 'Ford is an Anarchist?'"

"Well, I've heard it 30 or 40 times," Ford answered.

Stevenson then read the editorial and asked:

"Is there anything in that about throwing bombs?" referring to Ford's definition of an anarchist as a man who would "throw bombs."

Ford's counsel objected to the question and Stevenson said:

"This man says his feelings have been injured and we want him to point out where."

"They printed an editorial captioned 'Ford is an Anarchist' but the story following the title does not bear it out," interposed Judge Murphy, one of the attorneys for Ford.

At this juncture Ford volunteered some information.

"I seldom read beyond the headlines," he said. "However, I believe the truth should be told in the story in back of it."

"In back of it?" asked Stevenson.

"Well, behind it, then," retorted Ford.

Stevenson again brought up the "ignorant idealist" question when he inquired of Ford if he was an "ignorant idealist."

Attorney Lucking, Ford's counsel, objected and said it was "the easiest thing in the world to get an admission from a retiring, modest man of the Ford type." He followed this with the charge that Stevenson's examination was "the most brutal and inhuman" he had ever heard.

After the reading of the editorial, the examination swung into the matter of Ford's knowledge of military affairs.

Ford admitted he knew little of military affairs.

"Do you know much about the army?" inquired Stevenson.

"No," answered Ford.

"Yet you were conducting a huge campaign to educate the people relative to over preparedness."

Ford then stated that his campaign in 1916 against over preparedness was for the mere purpose of "taking sides."

"It was for the very purpose of stopping appropriations for the army that you launched that campaign?" Stevenson said.

"No, it wasn't," Ford answered.

"You said so yesterday," Stevenson charged.

"Well, I have said so many things; however, I did that merely to take sides," Ford replied.

Previously Ford had been questioned at length concerning the report submitted to the committee on military affairs in 1916, dealing with the subject of coast defenses which the defense charges was garbled and distorted in a pamphlet "Humanity and Sanity" which was put out by Ford.

The defense is trying to show the responsibility of Ford relative to military matters when he spread his anti-preparedness writings broadcast.

FOR FRECKLES

Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try it!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless and never irritates. adv

GEORGE D. GEYER GUEST AT STAG PARTY

A dozen young men were guests of Morris Bradfield, of Chicago, Thursday evening, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bradfield, of Dayton avenue, when he entertained in honor of George D. Geyer, whose marriage will take place early in September.

The guests were nearly all boys who were classmates in Xenia high school in the class of 1916. Most of them were in the army and some were overseas and in action, and they spent the evening exchanging reminiscences of the war, and of camp life. Ice cream and cake were served. The boys gave Mr. Geyer a "shower," and ties, hose, and other articles of male wearing apparel and adornment were received by the honor guest.

Another man took the umbrella, leaving a card after having written on the reverse side: "The man who took this umbrella can run a mile in four minutes and he is not coming back."

Mr. Seedmiller: "Bring me an oyster stew in a hurry." Accomplished waiter—"I will bring it with alacrity, sir." Mr. Seedmiller—"No, you won't. Just bring it plain. I won't pay for no trimmin's."

Typical of Mr. Edison

FOR several years the better makes of phonographs have been offered in specially built period cabinets at prices running into thousands of dollars. The Edison Laboratories reproduced and adapted numerous classic cabinets at prices running up to several thousand dollars.

One day Mr. Edison said to his associates:

"If period cabinets are desired by people who are willing to pay several thousand dollars for an Edison Phonograph, why not put all Edison Phonographs into period cases and let everyone have the best there is in cabinet design?"

Mr. Edison's word is law at the Edison Laboratories. Henceforth (with the exception of two models designed for summer cottages) each New Edison—no matter what its price—will be encased in a period cabinet.

This New Edison line of moderately priced Period Cabinet Phonographs will be exhibited to New York furniture lovers at the Hotel Commodore on June 25th. We now have some of these instruments at our store for your inspection. You are cordially invited to come and see them.

The new line of Edison Period Model Phonographs is priced from $155 to $6000. Worthy of special mention are a Heppelwhite at $155, a Sheraton at $195, a Jacobean at $250, the Official Laboratory Model in Chippendale or William & Mary at $285, an inlaid Sheraton at $300, and an Eighteenth Century English at $450.

LIKE ALLADIN'S LAMP WHICH TURNED EVERY- THING INTO GOLD.

An old author of repute once said:
"Never confide your secrets to paper;
it is like throwing a stone in the air,
you do not know where it will fall."
We suppose he meant in a letter, but
we are so liberal we dare to confide
a secret we have to a printed paper
of large circulation—namely this one.
We are thus generous with our secret
because thousands have found it out
and there is no use being selfish
about it. Yet it is a mighty secret.
It has made untold numbers of people
millionaires. Here is this wonderful
secret—ADVERTISING IS THE GREATEST FORTUNE MAKING
MEDIUM IN THE WORLD TODAY.
There used to be a contention as to whether merchandizing or manufacturing was the quickest road to wealth. Neither of these is comparatively worth a farthing, unless
co-joined with the secret we here im-
part—liberal advertising, attention
diverting advertising, stop-look-and-
listen advertising.

Doubtless some of our readers,
even some who belong to church-
have felt like saying "darn it" on occasions when the advertisers insisted
on taking more than their share of space. But it is so in all publications, the high priced monthly magazines being no exception, often to more than half of all the space. And
some of these advertisements are so
handsome, such genuine works of art,
they compel our admiration.

We have recently had at our neighboring city of Dayton such a wonderful instance of the tremendous pulling power of large advertising that
it made a whole lot of people sit up
and take notice. Everybody knows
about the century old Winter's National Bank, of Dayton, how it has gone along "letting nature take its course" in building up a great institution, a mighty bank, with resources on July 1, 1918, of $3,336,228.

At that time the bank made a new departure in their business, opened
a Savings Department, and entered upon a system of very large Advertising to boom their business. The
telling seems like a fairy story. The
telling is by Mr. Howard F. Marston,
a Director of the Winter's National Bank, and head of the Mercantile Corporation, the concern which prints
United States Government. On July 1, 1918, the bank occupied the central location where they had been for a generation, but their business increased so rapidly that they had to
seek new quarters ten times as large.

Then, July 1, 1918, they had 12 regular bank clerks, now they have 57
regular bank clerks. In six months
time they used in the papers 71 full
page advertisements. In six months,
up to January 1, 1919, the bank had opened Savings Accounts amounting
to more than $600,000, and also 1876
new Commercial Accounts, and their
statement showed resources of over $7,124,817, an increase of 113 per cent. In other words they had in six months gained more than had been accomplished in the preceding 104
years of the bank's life.

This is the story of our little secret
we were going to give you—the secret of how to get rich—by Advertising. Not necessarily employing full pages, that is simply a question
of how far you want to go beyond
using something more than a little
so-called card, appearing day after day with no change of copy, no signs
ing to stand for one of these cards,
going upon the theory that it doesn't
much anyway. This illustrates a little story we heard the other day, something like this:

It seems a chap had just purchased
a pair of 15-cent suspenders and his friend was trying to tell him "It didn't pay to buy that cheap stuff."
"Well," said the suspender buyer,
"they only cost 15 cents, so even if they are no good I can't lose much."
"No," agreed his friend, "not unless

"CARRYING ON" WITH THE FARM.

"Carry on," a magazine devoted to
the reconstruction of disabled soldiers
and sailors, published for the American Red Cross and edited by the office
of the Surgeon General of the United States Army, has in its current number an article that tells of the successful efforts of the Base Hospital
at Camp Sherman to teach the boys
by practical methods to become better farmers. Starting with a small number of students and with no laboratory equipment, an Agricultural Division was created, with a professor at the Ohio State University, College
of Agriculture in charge. The division
has had steady growth, 133 students
having enrolled since the start.

This plan of making better farmers
appeals to two types of men—those
not permanently disabled from doing
active farm work and those who, while physically incapacitated for future
manual labor, may train to be farm
managers, farm agents, teachers or
to do civil-service extension work.
The division takes men for training
even before they can stand on their feet, while correspondence courses
which lay down a firm foundation for
are established for the bedridden soldier.

This idea of making better farmers
is a worthy one. Not only does it
bring about a quicker and more complete recovery of the soldier, but it
finds congenial employment for him
and at the same time instills a practical knowledge of agriculture that
paves the way for successful farming.
Upon successful farms and farming
depends in no small way the future
of this country. The agricultural centers are the motive power that propels this nation along its way to greatness, and anything that can be done to make a better, more contented
farmer will tend to make this a stronger and greater nation.

CHAPTER XVI.

"Well did you go through everything?" Everett asked at dinner that night, the second in my new home.
"Yes, and Everett Mrs. Gray
thought I was going to discharge her.
I knew she didn't like me, but I didn't know why until she acted so
run this big house, that—"
main?"

"Yes, don't you want her?"
"Most certainly. But before you make any contracts with servants or anyone else, please consult me," his voice was sharp, and I knew he was displeased. But why? He had said
he most certainly wanted Mrs. Gray
to stay. I had told her the same.
"Oh, Everett! I'm sorry. I didn't think."

"Please think hereafter." He dismissed the subject, and was delightfully entertaining through the remainder of the dinner. Almost as much so as before I married him. When he was like that I forgot everything
but my pride in him.

We had been married not quite two

for companionship, the nearness of
one who would understand me. I was infatuated with life, eager for the thrill of my new experience. I longed
for sympathy—for love. I wanted to be caressed—to be told I was loved,
over and over, until I was sure of it.
I was often, even in those first days
of my married life, chased by the
fear that I was not loved because Everett so charily expressed his feeling for me. He wasn't as demonstrative as father was with mother, and
years.

Everett often talked over my head.
He said things I did not quite grasp,
but I never interrupted him to ask questions. I would often have liked to—but I feared to annoy him.

That night Everett ent out. I wanted to ask where he was going,
but waited, thinking he would tell
me. He did not, just gave me a careless kiss and said:

"Go to bed in good season."
I returned his kiss, but before I could steady my voice to speak he was gone. I wandered around for-lornly for a while. Then opened the piano and played a little. Both Mrs.
Gray and Hetty had gone out too, or
I should have asked them to talk to
me. I didn't dare go into the kitchen and talk with the cook. Everett had
weren't old retainers like ours at home, and that I not only could not make as free with them—but that I must not.

Finally, I went to my room and un-dressed. I slipped on a kimono and sat by the window. It seemed strange that Everett should go out without telling me, his wife, where he was going. Father never did that. He used always to call to mother if she
weren't in the room and say:

"I'm going to the club for a little while, I'll be back soon"—or something like that. More and more I began to see that my husband was
like father in only one thing, his age.

I could sit still no longer, and I wandered into Everett's room. It
was separated from mine by a large
dressing room.

At first I walked all around just
looking at things, not touching them.
Then I began to handle the toilet articles, so different from the dainty lovely set he had given me. Just plain black brushes and other articles. His ties were hung on some sort of board on the inside of his dressing room door. I never had dressed one man had so many ties
and such lovely ones. Soft lustrous silks that I loved to let slip through my fingers.

He had several photographs on the wall. But none of them interested me particularly. BUT, in his top-
drawer, under a pile of handkerchiefs, was one of a very lovely woman who looked about 30 years old.
She was exquisitely beautiful. The

picture was taken in evening dress,
showing the dimpled shoulders and
the perfectly modeled arms. Who could she be? I looked at her a long time. I must ask Everett in the morning. She probably was some relative.

I presume I should have had more pride than to have looked through my husband's things had I been older.
But I was lonely. I didn't feel like
reading, and I was not at all sleepy.
So idly I drew out one drawer after
another and looked at the contents.
Such quantities of fine underwear
and shirts. "Enough to stock
a store," I muttered to myself. Then,
in turning up the corner of some shirts to see what was underneath, I came upon another picture. I took it
out and saw it was another pose of
the same woman whose picture had so interested me—also a replica of the one in my room.

No Written Chinese Music.

Chinese music is not written. The words of some of the favorite songs have been preserved, but the music has been handed down from father to son for generations that go far back before the day of the troubadours. When music is played it is played according to the memory of the musician and his ideas of interpretation. A musician varies the performance as his best judgment dictates, and the strings, reeds or brass may break in at almost any time.

OUR OWN OHIO

Youngstown—State Senator Davis has withdrawn from the race for the Republican nomination for mayor and announces that he will give his time to his duties as state senator. Harry Dunspaugh, member of the house from Mahoning county, is a candidate for the nomination for mayor.

Elyria—"Mutt" is the municipal aligator and he has gone on a "hunger strike." While "Mutt" was resting in the pool at the city hall July 4th, the national was fired over his head, the salute was fired over his head. He dived to the bottom of the pool and stayed for four hours. Now he refuses to eat the pound of hamburger steak which is put before him each day.

Mansfield—The city council has taken favorable action on the increase of salary asked by the police and firemen. The salaries of police and fire chief was raised to $150 a month. The men received $120 a month after three months service.

Bellefontaine—This city is having a hard time in trying to decide what shall be done with the several hundred dollars left from the July Fourth celebration. Harmony existed in every move to make the Fourth a gala day, but there are friendly differences of opinion as to what shall be done with the surplus. The latest suggestion is that it be used for the purpose of building a swimming pool in the city park.

Greenville—Work on Ohio Electric Railway improvements in this city, which was halted by a strike, was resumed. The company hired other men to take the places of the strikers.

East Liverpool—The Salem board of education is the first to file a petition with the board of election calling for a 1 1-2 mill levy to be voted on August 12 for school purposes. The East Liverpool board is figuring on a like procedure, under the new law.

Akron—The county commissioners have decided to submit a $250,000 bond issue to the voters August 12 for the purpose of erecting a tuberculosis hospital in Summit county.

PAPER PUBLISHED IN 1783 GIVES PEEP INTO EVENTS OF LONG AGO

Can you imagine yourself stepping out on the front veranda in the year 2025 watching the mailman's airplane as he hesitated in mid-air and dropped your daily paper down the shoot into your hands.

Yet people of that far distant day will then feel the same way over a copy of the Xenia Gazette or Republican as readers of the present age feel over the issue of November 7, 1783, of the New York Morning Post, published in that city by Norton and Horner. There are just 136 years between them either way, but let us hope that the 136th year to come will not be just seeing the ending of a great war such as the people were passing through 136 years back and are now.

Printed during a most interesting period of American history, a sort of offspring of the dire days of the post-Revolutionary period, the Morning Post reflects the interest of the times and mirrors the unsettled conditions of the after-war period as a direct comparison with the parallel conditions we are now passing through.

The paper was published at No. 7 Water street between the Coffee House and the Old Slip, and one familiar with New York is hereby dared to tell just where that is today. But remarkable though it is, the far more substantial appearing Coffee House is long since in ruins, while the frail little paper has lived to reappear before the eyes of a curious generation.

On the front page, front column, there are orders published from Headquarters, N. Y., reading as follows: They still use the old form of "f's" for "s's" in that period but they are eliminated here to make the reading easier. "It is the Commander in Chief's order that no person under any pretext whatsoever shall presume to demolish any stone or brick building, or remove any part of the materials of which such building is composed, even though he be the proprietor thereof; nor shall he take down or remove the materials of any wooden house or building, until the board of commissioners for settling and adjusting matters of account, debt etc., shall upon due examination be satisfied that the house and materials belong to the person making such application and that he is under no covenant or engagement repugnant to such removal of which examination minutes are to be kept. Every person concerned in the demolition of stone and brick buildings or in taking down or removing the materials of wooden buildings and not able to produce an act of the said board authorizing the same, which is to be indorsed with the commandant's approbation shall be taken up by any civil or military officer and sent to the Provost and punished as the nature of his crime may require."

(Signed) "Ol. De Lancey, Adj. Gen." As there was practically nothing manufactured in the United States at that early date, almost every manufactured article was brought from England and sold immediately upon the arrival of the sailing vessel bearing the merchandise. Therefore there were a number of advertisements such as the following:

BANAN AND BURKE.

Have received by the Nancy that arrived yesterday, after a fast passage from Cork, a parcel of choice New Rose Butter, also a parcel of the best mould candles, which they will dispose of for cash in the most reasonable terms. Application to be made to them at Mr. Kemilton's, No. 197 Water street, near the Coffee House.

A want ad. published in the old paper is given below:

WANTS EMPLOYMENT.

"An industrious young man, a native of Ireland, and who is lately arrived from thence, understands the clothing business, and is also an excellent clerk, in either counting house, store or plantation, can be well recommended in this city and may be heard at Mr. William Adams' No. 16 Old Slip, N. Y."

"FOURTEEN DOLLARS REWARD"

This is the heading of an advertisement for a servant who had run away. It follows: "Ran away from the subscriber in Philadelphia an indentured servant man, named Patrick Golsen, from Belfast in Ireland; he is a tailor by trade, about five feet seven or eight inches high, stout made, has short brown hair, round full face and a little pock-pitted. Had on, when he went away, a short coating coat of light mixt color, with yellow buttons, and faced with sagathy, the same color, a light drab vest and breeches, a pair of black breeches, mottled brown and white worsted stockings, a fine white shirt marked D. B. and a round imported hat. The subscriber will pay the above reward and all reasonable charges."

David de Bartholt.

N. B.—All masters of vessels and others are forbid to harbor the said servant, as they may expect to be prosecuted.

And finally the following. It must be taken on its merits, and sounds very much like satire:

"This day is published and to be had at the printers, No. 7 in Water street, between the Coffee House and Old Slip, also of Berry and Rogers, No. 35 Hanover Square, the second edition of the very curious trial of Mrs. Elizabeth Williams for Crim. Con. with that truly gallant and amorous son of Neptune, Captain Joseph Peyton, of the Beaver Sloop of War, to which is added a humorous poetical epistle from Mrs. Williams to her husband. This unparalleled trial is repeated with the most humorous incidents and cannot fail of affording delectable amusement to all the merry votaries of the Cyprian Goddess.

Amor Vincit Omnia."

BRIDE TO BE IS GUEST OF HONOR

Miss Zelpha Dobbins, of Cedarville, who will be a bride of this summer, was honor guest at a kitchen shower which was given Thursday afternoon by her sister-in-law, Mrs. O. A. Dobbins, at her country home on the Federal pike.

Garden flowers were used about the rooms, and the shower gifts were arranged on the dining room table, beneath a large white umbrella which was suspended from the chandelier. The umbrella was decked in ruffles of pink and white crepe paper, and strands of pop corn falling over its edge gave the effect of rain.

During the afternoon the guests enjoyed several contests, and they had a merry time telling the fortune of the guest of honor. Brick ice cream and cake were served, the pink and white color arrangement being carried out. Miss Dobbins' sister, Mrs. Denver Wisecup, of Oxford, was a guest at the affair, which was enjoyed by thirty young women.

Miss Dobbins marriage to Sherman Lining of Hamersville, Brown county, will take place this summer, but the date is being kept secret.

Fewer Walking Sticks Used.

Not as much timber is being made into walking sticks as in days gone by. About two generations ago no gentleman was considered fully dressed for the street unless he carried his stick. Now it is almost as unusual to hear of a man being presented with a gold-headed cane as with a silver or tortoise-shell snuff box.

SLAYER OF GIRL AND HIS LOYAL MOTHER.

Harry S. New and Mrs. Julia Berger.

Los Angeles, July 18.—While a large crowd, mostly women and girls, filled the court room and struggled for admission to the corridor outside, Harry S. New, Jr., confessed slayer of his sweetheart, Freda Lesser, pleaded not guilty to the grand jury indictment charging him with murder in the first degree, before superior Judge G. W. Craig today.

Self-Conquest.

Patience and gentleness are not easy virtues when one is troubled within and buffeted without by the day's trials and demands. There are many times when the taking of a city might mean less to the individual soldier concerned than the conquest of his own spirit and tongue. There are tense days when a carping or unjust word falls on the spirit like a lighted match on tinder; wherefore we should be the more careful to store no tinder for ourselves, and toss no lighted matches at our fellows.

Intelligence.

An intelligent person is supposed to be one of cultivated understanding; a person who has acquired a large store of knowledge, but not necessarily in the schools or colleges, for many highly intelligent persons have been self-educated men and women. Intelligence is a characteristic of the mind rather than of action or manners. There are highly intelligent people who are socially impossible because of self-conceit or boorish manners.

"Bringing Up Father"

By George McMannan

The White Year

By OTILLIA FRANCES PFEIFFER

(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

At the age of twenty-two, acting under an impetuous impulse he could not restrain, Walter Merrill wrote a letter to the girl he loved, confessing his affection and asking that she award him happiness or heartbreak according as she reciprocated his fervent devotion or did not, as the case might be. There came no reply. As if utterly disdainful of his plea, he learned that Myrtle Farr had started away on a visit to a relative at some distance. Merrill was a being of deep sensitiveness. He vanished completely from Bayville and his motive and whereabouts became a mystery to his former friends.

His gloomy face made no new friends, his half-hearted interest in seeking employment discouraged attention. Very soon his surplus money was gone. Idleness led to dissipation. He sank lower and lower, and at the end of a few months was a street wanderer and his companions men of reckless mold.

His eyes were bleared, his clothing in tatters, his gait unsteady, as one day crossing a street the sharp toot of an automobile horn caused him to look up. Two ladies in the machine were agonizedly screaming to their chauffeur. Directly in the path of the auto a little child was rolling her doll carriage. Merrill made a leap. Not a second too soon he snatched the imperiled child from her position, swung her spinning to one side, and himself stumbled and fell.

There was a clang, dull and deadly, and Merrill disappeared under the body of the vehicle. Then as it backed he lay in a pool of blood, his face bruised and cut, his eyes closed and his body rigid.

It was like a transition into a new sphere to the injured man to recover sensibility amid comfort and cleanliness. He was alone in bed in a half-darkened room, but the door communicating with the adjoining apartment was ajar and he could discern that several persons were there. A feminine voice spoke, gentle and quite anxious. "He will live, doctor?" It intoned.

"Oh, yes, there is nothing wrong of a serious nature outside of the lower part of both limbs."

"He can bear removal to a hospital"—began the doctor.

"No," spoke Miss Althea Darrow, and the negative was enforced strongly by her sister, Marcia. "We owe to this man not only money reparation, but sympathy and care. He is poor, perhaps homeless. Sister and I will give him a home until he has entirely recovered."

Some new emotions came to Walter Merrill as he heard himself thus commended. He learned that the two splinters were ladies with means, given to deeds of charity. They lived well, and as he got about in an invalid's chair, a room on the ground floor was fitted up for him. Daily he was wheeled out into the garden. Everybody seemed glad to be of help to him. Kindness toned down his ruggedness and reckless indifference.

At first, until his injured limbs recovered their original strength Merrill acted as chauffeur for his thoughtful patronesses. Then his quick intelligence recommended him to them for a trustworthy position of looking after their property. He attended to rents and repairs, and nothing was pleasanter than the frequent trips from place to place, and very often the little child whose life he had saved was his welcome companion.

One day—Walter Merrill never afterward forgot that eventful occasion—on a business mission he came within a few miles of Bayville. The temptation to see the old town was irresistible. He was driving the machine slowly down a tree-shaded street, when a lad of about sixteen abruptly darted from the sidewalk, shouting his name.

"Oh, Mr. Merrill!" he hailed. "Please—please, just a moment." Then he added breathlessly: "Oh! you must come to our house right away. Alice wants to see you, and at once."

Merrill well remembered Alice Wayne. She had always evinced a predilection for his company, but love he had never thought of. Merrill wondered at the earnestness of the excited lad. He drove the machine to the Wayne home. His guide led him into the house. Merrill was shocked as he saw upon a couch the girl who had been a blooming beauty when last he had seen her. Disease and suffering had wasted her away, and death was in her face.

An infinite relief was expressed in that wan face as Alice Wayne clasped the hand of Merrill fervidly. She sent her mother from the room. Then came a confession that amazed her visitor. Alice confessed that she had destroyed a letter Myrtle had given her to mail, the non-arrival of which had started him upon the downward path. When a fatal disease had overcome her she had suffered from incredible remorse. She had sent for Myrtle and had confessed the truth. Now, with feeble breath she insisted on sending for her girl friend, that the great wrong she had wrought should be mended.

All along Myrtle Farr had loved and mourned for Merrill. His confession soon brought about a perfect understanding. Redeemed by his "white year," Myrtle Farr had no fear to deter her from trusting her happiness to his loving care.

CARRIERS SELL MILLION DOLLARS IN WAR STAMPS

H. G. Cooper of Newark Holds Championship Honors For July.

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—The 29 leading carriers in the War Savings Stamp Campaign among the letter carriers of Ohio have sold a total of $471,625 at the beginning of the ninth competitive week, according to the Ohio War Savings Committee. J. G. Cooper of Newark is the state leader, having disposed of $47,645 to July 5. The 50 leading carriers in the state have sold more than $1,000,000 worth of stamps.

In addition to Cooper the leading carriers in order of their sales are: A. H. Flory, Wauseon, $42,540; E. A. Keller, Chillicothe, $39,400; A. L. Vancosdall, Ashland, $35,220; William Lutz, Jeromeville, $32,086; O. E. Brumfield, Wellston, $30,440.

PUPILS AFTER $100 SALES OF WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—The period between July 21 and Aug. 9 is to be known as "The Vacation Thrift Committee Hundred Dollar Campaign," during which school children will endeavor to sell War Savings Stamps to $100 buyers. A special effort will be made to secure pledges for the new $100 War Savings Certificates.

School children contesting for prizes are urged to get in touch with chairmen of Vacation Thrift Committees to get instructions for entering the campaign.

RICHARD CROKER SUED BY SON FOR $217,200.

Richard Croker

Richard Croker, noted politician and former leader of Tammany Hall, New York, has been sued by his son, Richard Croker, Jr., for $217,200. Richard, Jr., has filed two judgments against his father in the office of the New York County Clerk, one of $137,181.98 and the other for $80,019. According to young Croker, the larger judgment was rendered for sums said to have been owed by his father for services rendered as his agent and the smaller one for the alleged failure of the former Tammany leader to pay $80,000 of the money withheld by the first Mrs. Croker to Ethel Croker. Mr. Croker, who left recently on a trip to Ireland, did not defend the suit.

BOATING AND BATHING RESUMED AT KILKARE

Boating and bathing at Kilkare Park was resumed Thursday for the first time since the Miami river was polluted by refuse from the Hager Straw Board and Paper Company. The heavy rains which fell since the stream was filled with the refuse, washed out the channel and carried all the pollution down the river. The water washed over the banks at Kilkare during the storm Tuesday afternoon and the effect was to clean out the stream, the water being as good as ever after the high waters had subsided.

While no order was issued against the boating and swimming the water was in such condition that no one wanted to go in until after the refuse had washed away.

Silks of Seville.

Four hundred years ago the silks of Seville, then the most famous in the world, were exported to all countries, for Spain was the first nation of western Europe to take up silk culture. The climate of Spain is excellent for this industry, and fine silkworms, such as were employed when silk cultivation was at its height, are available in the foothills of the Sierra Nevada, near Granada. This worm has a life of 50 days, and in the first 30 it grows to thousands of times its original weight.

JESS TOO HANDSOME TO LOSE WAS WAY FAIR FAN THOUGHT

Columbus, Ohio, July 17.—She was a fair fan and was interested in the outcome of the big fight.

She stood listening to a big voiced announcer on one of the Columbus street corners.

"Dempsey wins," shouted the announcer.

"It just can't be so," said the fair one as she turned to another fair one who didn't seem to care much about the fight and who seemed to be listening to what the announcer said just because she was awaiting her "fanette" friends.

"Why can't it be true," asked the disinterested one.

"Oh, Jess Willard was so good looking, it just can't be true," she said, as she wiped a stray tear from a pretty row of eyelashes.

THIS PRETTY GIRL WHO DEFIES AGE USES HOWARD'S BUTTERMILK CREAM TO BEAUTIFY HER COMPLEXION

Tells Sayre & Hemphill and All Good Drug and Department Stores Not to Take Any One's Money Unless this Delightful New Vanishing Cream Quickly Shows a Decided Improvement. Try it today at Our Expense.

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic. The fact that whilst it turns the dull, least, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crow's feet or lines around the mouth, ugly finger nails or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by all of these troubles will quickly disappear with Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

To prove this to your complete satisfaction get a small quantity today standing that they will freely return at Sayre & Hemphill's with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money to pay any dissatisfied user.

Beautiful actresses say, "A short massage with Buttermilk Cream at night before retiring is all that is necessary."

WILL SHIP AIRPLANE HOME ABOARD SHIP

St. Johns, N. F., July 18.—Captain Frederick P. Raynham whose second attempt late yesterday to "hop off" on the flight to the British Isles, ended disastrously, said today that he probably will ship his damaged Martin-syde plane home on the liner Gram-pain, leaving in a few days and return to England himself.

How Fat Folks May Become Thin

If you are suddenly becoming stout, or if you have been putting on flesh for years, the cause is generally the same—lack of oxygen carrying power of the blood. This trouble occurs mostly in men and women over thirty, but it may be easily treated and without any of the privations most fat people imagine necessary to reduce girth and get a box of Phynola. Take five grains after each meal and at bedtime. Wonderful results should be quickly accomplished by this simple treatment.

Be sure however you get the genuine Phynola. It is put up in original sealed packages, is pleasant to take and gives prompt results. Sayre & Hemphill can supply you.

Women of today seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. Home duties, church duties, war activities, and the hundred-and-one calls for charitable enterprises soon lead women to overdo. Nervousness, headaches, backaches and female troubles are the inevitable result.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which, added to my weak condition, kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness. Health and happiness? Yes, I have both now."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of women nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. Avoid them by taking in time

RESERVES ENGAGE NEW MAN TO WORK AT FIRST BASE

John "Monk" Day, who at one time acquired quite a habit of cavorting around first base, when he was prominently connected with the late Xenia Shamrocks, will be stationed at the initial corner in the coming conflict with the Washington C. H. Athletics which will be staged in Washington on the coming Sabbath.

The game will be the first contest played by the Reserves away from home this season, marking their inauguration as either a road or home club. The locals have been performing to good crowds all season but in an effort to please the fans, arranged for the series with the Fayette county outfit, the second game of the inter-county set-to to be played here later in the season.

The affixing of his name to a Reserve contract by "Monk" Day means that Manager Foley is attempting to fill the breach made by the absence of Deacon Bath who was injured in last Sunday's pastime and, it is thought, will be out of the affray the balance of the season. "Monk" was formerly the slugging first baseman of the Shamrocks and attained quite a reputation for himself, not only with the willow, but also in the field. If he can hit and field like he could when with the kid aggregation he should be a live wire in the lineup.

Stiles, veteran guardian of the key-stone corner will be in the coming fracas after an absence of two weeks, and it is expected that one of the strongest combinations of the season will face the Athletics on their own grounds.

Local fans will chafe under the idle day here no doubt, but will watch with interest the outcome of the Reserves on foreign soil.

HOME SERVICE SECRETARY IS KEPT VERY BUSY

Mrs. Lulu C. Quisenberry, newly appointed Red Cross home service secretary for Greene county, has found almost every minute of her time occupied since she has been in Xenia, assisting and giving advice to ex-soldiers and sailors or their families. Her assistant, and visitor, Mrs. David Pitz has also been very busy with the work.

A number of those seeking advice from the home service secretary are the ex-soldiers disabled in the army, who are receiving government vocational training at the C. N. and I. Department of Wilberforce University. There are now about 25 of these men at Wilberforce. The home service department takes no part in this vocational training.

PERMANENT RANK OF GENERAL ASKED FOR GEN. PERSHING

Washington, July 18.—President Wilson this afternoon urged congress to confer the permanent rank of general on General John J. Pershing, commander in chief of the American Expeditionary Forces, and Chief of Staff Peyton C. Marsh, and the permanent rank of Admiral on Admirals William S. Benson, chief of naval operations, and William S. Sims who was in command during the war of American naval forces in European waters.

THREE MAKE ESCAPE FROM REFORMATORY

Mansfield, O.,—Paul Rivers, Cuyahoga county; Walter Wright, Columbiana county, and James Bush, Lucas county, escaped from the Ohio State Reformatory early last evening. Their absence was discovered when the final count was taken at 9:30 o'clock. They had hid out from their cells, made their way into a storage room in the annex, broke through a skylight to the roof and then let themselves down to the ground by means of an improvised rope and under cover of darkness. Officials believe that an automobile was waiting to help them make a getaway as no trace of them has been discovered.

HAGAR BOARD AND PAPER COMPANY PAYS A FINE OF $250

Pleading guilty to the charge of causing certain illegal substances to enter the waters of Massie's creek and the Little Miami River, and destroy the fish in those streams, George Little, as president and general manager of the Hagar Board and Paper Company, paid a fine of $250 and costs which was assessed Friday morning by Justice of the Peace J. E. Jones.

This fine is the limit fixed by law. The affidavit was filed by Deputy State Game Warden Karle S. Keller of West Carrollton. Mr. Keller was assisted in making the investigations which resulted in the fixing of the blame for polluting the waters against the paper company by Deputy Game Warden H. L. Monbeck of Moraine City. The game wardens said they found that the gates of the reservoir in which the refuse from the paper mill is kept, were open from 6 o'clock last Saturday evening until 7 o'clock Sunday morning. They did not fix any blame upon any one for opening the gates.

Mr. Little said that while in the past a watchman had been maintained at the reservoir only in the day time the company is now providing two men who will guard the big tank day who is connected with the state game warden's office and is an authority upon the question of pollution of streams, expects to come here the first of next week, and confer with Mr. Little regarding the question of disposing of the paper mill refuse in some way which will eliminate the danger of the streams again becoming contaminated and destroying thousands of fish.

CALIFORNIA TO PITTSBURGH AND BACK IS MOTTO DISPLAYED

"Pasadena Cal. to Pittsburgh, Pa., and back."

This motto adorns the touring car of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Neckerman of Pasadena, who stopped in Xenia. Friday morning on the last lap of their five weeks journey overland from the Pacific coast.

The Neckermans left Pasadena, June 12, enroute to Pittsburgh to see Dr. Neckerman's parents, and his brother, who recently returned from France. They have an entire camping outfit with them in their Reo car, and while they occasionally eat a meal in a city or town through which they are passing, usually they camp by the wayside, unstrap their stove from the compact case in which it rides on the running board, and cook their food in the open. They sleep in the tent they carry with them.

Both wear khaki suits and Mrs. Neckerman, who is very slight resembles a young boy in her nifty uniform and hat. They will stop over in Columbus to visit friends and expect to reach Pittsburgh Sunday or Monday.

Their big touring car shows the effect of the long trip, and the top is torn.

"Kansas wind did that," said Dr. Neckerman.

FLOATING SALOON IS THE LATEST

Los Angeles, Cal., July 18.—"Rum hounds" in and near this city are taking hope. A "floating bar"—a ship that will take on its cargo in west Mexican ports, steam northward and lie at anchor three miles off the California shore for the benefit of the thirsty—is the latest project.

A former manager of a social club and a former owner of a cafe are said to be behind this novel enterprise. By loading the bar at a Mexican port the originators of the plan believe they will be violating no laws.

The A. M. E. Conference Branch of the Woman's Mite Missionary Society opened its annual session in Selma last night. Those attending from this locality are Mrs. Edna S. Woodson, of Wilberforce, president, Mrs. Ophelia C. Rogers, Xenia, recording secretary, Mrs. Victoria Lane, Xenia, member of the Executive Board, Mrs. Sallie Watkins, Mrs. Dovie C. Nichols and Mrs. Mary Mosby delegates from St. John's A. M. E. church, Mrs. Hattie Powers, delegate from 1st A. M. E. church, and Mrs. M. E. Evans, Wilberforce, district superintendent. Rev. George W. Maxwell, Presiding Elder, and Rev. P. A. Nichols will attend. Bishop J. H. Jones is expected to preach the missionary sermon, Sunday morning.

Miss Helen W. Ferguson left yesterday for Boston, Mass., where she will take a six weeks' course at Harvard University summer school. She will stop off in Washington, D. C., Atlantic City, and Portland, Maine, on her way to Boston. She will take the educational course at Harvard and will also take vocal and instrumental instruction at the Boston Conservatory of Music. Miss Gladys Burton accompanied her as far as New York. Miss Burton will take a summer course in Domestic Science in New York.

Miss Ruby Martin is attending the summer school at the Wisconsin State University, Madison, Wisconsin. She writes that she is enjoying her work very much.

Miss Rilda Phelps writes interestingly concerning the beautiful city of Paris. She says that she saw many young men from Xenia a few weeks ago. Miss Phelps is in the Y. M. C. A. work in France and was formerly one of our city school teachers. She is a sister to Mrs. Ella Gee.

SEVERAL CHANGES IN PENNSY TRAINS

Several changes in the time schedule of the Pennsylvania Lines are now being announced at the local ticket office.

The morning accommodation to Cincinnati, which has been going at 7:53 a. m. has been moved up to 7:30 a. m. The other morning through train which has been leaving at 8:15 a. m., has been changed to leave at 8:37 a. m.

The only other change is that the 8:10 a. m. extra fare train from New York to St. Louis will not stop here in the future, either to take on or let off passengers. The train will stop at Columbus and Dayton only to let passengers off but will not let passengers on. The train formerly gave both ways services in all three of these cities.

First Daily Paper.

"March 11th was the anniversary of the birth of the first daily paper in England, to wit, the Daily Courant," says the London Morning Post. "It was issued in the year 1702, by 'E. Mallet, against the Ditch in Fleet Street,' and it was cynically said of the worthy pioneer that he was the earliest journalist to show any jealousy for an accurate statement of fact."

Believe Mangrove Walks.

Off the west coast of Africa, where mangroves are very plentiful, the natives have many curious superstitions about the mangrove tree, which is supposed to walk around in the water at night and is thought to be under the direct influence of spirits. These trees are plentiful in the southern states, especially in Florida, where they literally form islands impenetrable to man, but the paradise of water birds.

FATE OF KAISER SOON TO BE KNOWN

Paris, July 17.—The peace conference commission on war responsibility met Thursday and a final decision regarding the fate of the ex-kaiser will be made known in a few days. It is probable that a formal reply to the messages of Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, former German chancellor and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, former German chief of staff, will be delivered within a short time.

Toledo, O., July 18.—A cigarette thrown by boys into a pile of oily waste resulted in a $65,000 fire late yesterday in a down-town garage. Thirty-eight automobiles were destroyed.

A crippled woman and her baby were rescued from their home over garage by firemen. Both were unconscious.

BELLBROOK

Joseph Black, of the Manhattan hotel, Dayton, spent Wednesday night with his son Roy and family.

The kids of the village were treated liberally to Laurel crackers by the advertising agent of the company Wednesday evening.

According to present plans C. F. Schwartz and Willis Black will start Tuesday on a motor trip to St. Paul, Minn. where they will visit Mr. Schwartz's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ross McClure. During the 10-day stay Mr. Schwartz will visit Chicago on a business deal.

Blackberry hunters can be seen in every nook and corner of the country. The present crop promises to be a smasher of all records for a number of years.

The cool nights of the past week has caused a profound silence to reign over the "old swimmin' hole" south of town.

C. D. and James Crowl received word Wednesday of the death on that day in Dayton of their brother, A. L. Crowl. Mr. Crowl had been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism, but the direct cause of his death was due to a stroke of paralysis which he suffered a few weeks preceding his demise. The deceased was about 65 years of age and had been a resident of Dayton for about 25. He was a resident of Bellbrook and Sugar Creek township the greater part of his life before moving to Dayton. For a number of years he was associated with his wife and son in the millinery business on Ludlow street, Dayton. Of the immediate family, his only son, Leon, survives him, his wife having died a few years since. He also leaves two brothers O. D. and James Crowl, and one sister, Mrs. Anna Peck, now residing in Illinois. Short funeral services will occur at his late residence and burial will be made in Bellbrook cemetery Friday.

Danger Lurks In Summer Foods For Babies

EVERY mother knows the evil effects of summer heat on a cow's milk. This danger is equally great to all foods unless carefully kept in a cool place away from insects.

Bad food loses its nourishing value. It causes constipation and diarrhea. These are at best always prevalent in the summer time. They depress the mind and weaken the body, and may cause more serious illness.

The first precaution is to see that the stools are regular and normal. In the case of babies and children, if less than twice a day you may suspect constipation; if more than three times a day, diarrhea. A remedy is then needed that will regulate and tone the bowels, and you will find none safer and better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that millions of mothers constantly have in the house for just such purposes.

A bottle of Syrup Pepsin can be bought at any drug store for 50c and $1, the latter the family size. A free trial bottle can be had by sending your address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 480 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

HALF AS MANY DIVORCE PETITIONS FILED AS MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

Dayton, July 18.—The annual judicial statistical report of Clerk William H. Hanley of Montgomery county completed yesterday by Chief Clerk Harry Miller shows that two marriage licenses are issued in Montgomery county to every divorce case filed here.

The report shows that 2,216 marriage licenses were issued during the year, July 1, 1918, to June 30, 1919, against 1,020 divorce petitions filed in the corresponding period.

According to the report, a total of 223 divorce actions were pending July 1, 1918 and a total of 253 cases were pending June 30, 1919. A total of 1,020 divorce cases were filed during the year against 842 cases filed in 1918, showing an increase of 178 cases.

Of the 1,020 divorce cases before the local court of domestic relations, 354 were brought by the husband and 666 by the wife. A total of 890 cases were decided during the year in which 655 decrees were granted, 38 refused and 197 dismissed.

The favorite charge in divorce actions was that of absence and neglect. A total of 723 plaintiffs used that plea last year. Cruelty was charged in 262 cases, unfaithfulness in 20 cases, drunkenness in 5 cases, fraud in one case and miscellaneous charges in nine cases.

The husband received the decree in 211 cases while the wife was given the decree in 444 cases. Children involved in divorce cases were given to the father in 23 cases, to the mother in 99 cases, and to outside parties in 16 cases.

Fines in criminal cases totaled $4,032 of which $200 is reported as "probably collectable." The court costs in criminal cases for the year amounted to $3,875.15, of which $889.78 has been paid into the county treasury.

The report showed a decrease of almost $2,000 in the cost of juries. Grand juries for the year cost Montgomery county a total of $1,510.35; petit juries, $3,716.20 and petit juries in criminal cases $1,076.55 or a total of $6,303.30. The total costs last year was $8,125.55.

The criminal report showed a total of 138 cases pending July 1, 1918, 349 indictments returned during the year and 188 cases pending at the time the report was completed. There were eight indictments returned charging murder in the second degree, four charging manslaughter, 29 assault with intent to kill, four with assault with intent to rob and 22 charging robbery.

In two instances prisoners were convicted of first degree murder, one case was reduced to second degree and one to manslaughter. In one case, that of Ed. Scheidt, charged with the murder of a foreigner at West Carrollton, last November, there was an acquittal.

A total of $5,395 was paid by Montgomery county as attorney fees for the defense of prisoners who were unable to hire counsel. In four cases

the amount allowed the attorneys was $500 each.

The state reduced the charge in 43 criminal cases, caused imprisonment in 120 cases and released the defendant under the open docket in 21 cases.

The report of the county coroner for the year ending June 30, 1919, was also made a part of the report and showed a total of 420 inquests held during that time. Homicide was reported in 16 cases, 11 white and five colored. Suicide was reported in 32 cases, 20 white and 12 colored. Accidental death was the verdict in 157 cases in which 149 were white and 8 colored. Deaths from natural or unknown causes during the year totaled 215, of which 188 were white and 27 colored.

Civil action in the common pleas courts of the county showed a slight increase, according to the report. A total of 1,505 cases were pending July 1, 1918, against a total of 1,615 pending June 30, 1919. According to the report 1,791 cases were filed during the year and 1,629 cases disposed of during the year. But 52 cases were appealed to the higher court.

But sixteen cases were pending in the court of appeal July 1, 1918, against 39 cases pending July 1, 1919. Fifty-two cases were filed, 25 cases disposed of and four cases carried to the supreme court.

Friends and neighbors gave a "pound" party last week in honor of Mrs. Amy Gray.

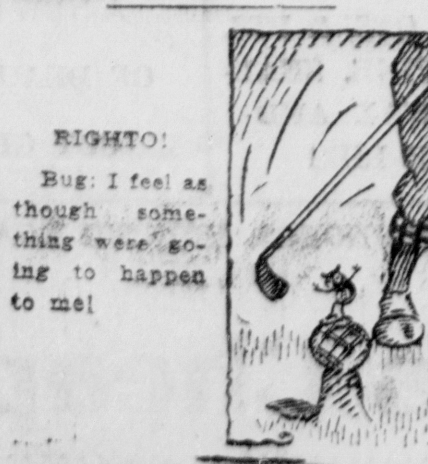

Frank Williamson, wife and four year old son, of Chicago, are spending some time with relatives in Beaver creek.

Mrs. Orval Kincaid and baby and Miss Alma Harshman were guests of her father, Mr. Frank Wagner, and sister, Miss May, in Dayton, Saturday night.

A "surprise" was tendered G. W. Lantz at his beautiful home Tuesday evening in honor of his birthday when quite a crowd of friends and relatives gathered to help him celebrate his natal day. Refreshments were served, and a very pleasant evening was spent. Mr. Lantz was truly very much "surprised" not having received a hint of the affair.

WONDERFUL CHANGE IN CONDITION OF CITY FARM IS MADE

The magic wand of a genie jumping at the touch of a modern Alladin's lamp might have done it, but fact proves that he did not.

A modern fairy waving her star crowned wand through the atmosphere might have engineered the deal but unless a crowd of work house prisoners can be taken as a bunch of fairies, this mythical maiden had no hand in the matter.

But, nevertheless there is as much difference between the city farm today and the city farm a year and a half ago as there is between its present condition and the Garden of Eden. For work and the expenditure of a little money has transformed the farm of 32 acres on the Towler road into a good place to live and a paying proposition at the same time.

The farm is occupied by Roy Jenks who has charge of the city street cleaning, the city garbage disposal, and the city sewage disposal plant, and he occupies it with his family, paying the city rent for the place. The city, however, reserves several acres, three of which are put in potatoes for the use of the work house, and two of which are taken up by the city gravel pit.

The house on the place, which was at one time used as the pest house, has been replastered, papered and painted and renovated, and a new barn will be added to the buildings on the place soon, it is thought.

The land has been enriched by the use of the city street dirt on the top of it as a filler, and the entire acreage has been covered with this sort of dirt.

The section formerly occupied by the old disposal plant has also been reclaimed by filling in, and the land is rich now and produces good crops.

The land value has been increased since the farm has been improved and from $75 an acre which price was set on it previous to the reclamation work it has raised to $150, which it is believed it is easily worth now.

The improvements on the city farm have also helped other lands in that section and farmers living near the place are grateful for the changes, all of which have been done under the supervision and at the direction of City Manager Riddle, since his accession to the head of municipal affairs here.

LET 'EM SLIDE

Cleveland, O., July 17.—Hogs took a sensational tumble today. Prices slid from fifty to sixty cents a hundred and prospects were that tomorrow's quotations would see another substantial decline. Experienced buyers on the local market were at a loss to explain the sudden slump after hogs had reached the highest price ever known. The steady demand which kept prices climbing for the past week steadily seemed withdrawn today. Prime heavies brought $22.50 today against $23.10 yesterday.

CORN LOAD HELD LIQUOR

Clarksburg, W. Va., July 18.—Hunting for chicken thieves. Sheriff Griffin and his deputies became suspicious when a clinking was heard in a load of corn being carried on a one-horse dray. The investigation revealed 144 quarts of contraband whiskey.

ELECTED SUPERINTENDENT

Bucyrus, July 16.—Prof. J. J. Phillips, for three years superintendent of the Galion schools, has been unanimously chosen superintendent of the Bucyrus schools to succeed Superintendent W. W. Borden, who goes to South Bend, Ind., under a three year contract.

JAMESTOWN

The dates of the Jamestown Chautauqua is the 11, 12 and 13 of August. On Sunday evening, the 10th, there will be a religious union service at the tent, conducted by the manager, who is a minister of the gospel, and never has a Chautauqua program on Sunday. The Radcliffe Chautauqua comes from the Washington, D. C. bureau, and is for three days. The tent will be erected on the school lawn, and Manager C. A. Devoe says the program looks good and interesting. The Sunday evening service will be free.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Bevan had for their guests the first of the week the former's brother, A. C. Bevan, and family, of Wilmington.

Mr. J. H. Ervin, who represents the R. L. Hollins Company, as a solicitor for the eastern part of Greene county, is succeeding nicely. Mr. Ervin is very well acquainted with the people through this section of country, as he has been engaged in the grain and milling business in Jamestown for the past thirteen years, and is regarded as a straight forward business man, and takes time and pains to fairly explain the business basis of the company.

The Rev. Frank Dean will fill the pulpit of the United Presbyterian church on Sunday in the absence of the Rev. W. W. Lorimer, who is at Washington, Pa., spending his vacation.

Mr. Floyd W. James, who has bought an interest in the Jamestown Journal, is moving his family into the A. B. Thomas property on West Main street.

Dr. J. H. French, of Jeffersonville, has decided to locate in Jamestown, and has purchased the beautiful new home of Archie McFarland and will take offices in the long building on West Main street. Dr. French has recently been discharged from the government service. Mr. McFarland will rent property until early fall, when he and his family will go to Florida and will possibly locate in that state.

Rufus Sanders was taken violently ill on Monday, suffering from a sunstroke. His mother, Mrs. Grace Sanders, who was at Loveland with her mother, Mrs. Boteler, who has been so very ill, hurriedly came home to be with her son.

Mrs. Homer Smith is the guest this week of her sister, Mrs. J. L. Leffel, and family in Springfield.

The Jamestown board of education has employed Mr. Gilbert A. Williams, of Oxford, as principal of the Adams street school in the place of Miss Esther Pryor, of Xenia, who resigned the position, to teach in that city. Miss Dorothy Bell will teach the grades in this school.

Mrs. Alma Laird, who was called to Jamestown on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. M. T. McCright, has gone to Columbus to meet her son Donald, who has just returned from overseas.

Mrs. George Douglas, of Morrow, is at her daughter's home, Mrs. Robert Swaney, whose little son is seriously ill.

YOUR SAFEST MOVE

A Home of Your Own

THERE ARE JUST TWO THINGS in the curriculum of human achievement, which, regardless of the sacrifice entailed throughout the process of possession, carry no semblance of regret. One is the savings account. The other inseparable from it is THAT HOME OF YOUR OWN. Every man who thinks must realize that America shall surely emerge from this period of reconstruction into an era of unprecedented prosperity with HOPE looming largely upon every individual's horizon.

SURELY IT IS NOW THE TIME to lay the foundation for that which is the emblem of life's best attainment. To join while the race is yet young in pursuit of the one goal around which forever thrives the blossoms of happiness and content—THE HOME OF YOUR OWN.

FAMED APACHE TRIBE HOLDS LAST ENCAMPMENT AT MESCALERA, NEW MEXICO.

Apache Indians held last encampment.

LOCAL DRUGGISTS ALL WASH THEIR HANDS OF THE LIQUOR BUSINESS

Not one of the local drug stores has filed application for a liquor license and they have all washed their hands of all trafficking in the product. This statement is in justice to the drug men of the city, who, although they now have the right to take out a license to merchandise liquor, have turned down all dealing with the booze. Whisky hunting, unfortunately, who hope to get a whiff of the alcohol "for medicinal purposes" will be out of luck here as local drug stores will not carry a bit.

In the matter of other drugs containing a large per cent of alcohol, only a reasonable amount of caution can be exercised in dispensing them. Local druggists take the greatest possible care in selling camphor, Jamaica ginger, or other drugs, which are sought for the alcohol they contain, and produce the same effect as whisky or other drink, which depends for its kick on alcohol. Constant drug users or drinkers will not be sold anything of this nature.

The medicinal uses of wines and spirits are explained in a circular issued by A. C. Gilligan, Collector of Internal Revenue of the Cincinnati district, which were received by local druggists. They read: "Physicians may prescribe wines and liquors, for internal use, or alcohol for external uses, but in every such case each prescription shall be in duplicate, and both copies be signed in the physician's handwriting. The quantity prescribed for a single patient at a given time shall not exceed one quart. In no case shall a physician prescribe alcoholic liquors unless the patient is under constant personal supervision."

"All prescriptions shall indicate clearly the name and address of the patient, including street and apartment number, if any, the date when written, the condition of illness for which prescribed, and the name of the pharmacist to whom the prescription is to be presented for filling."

"The physician shall keep a record in which a separate page or pages shall be allotted each patient for whom alcoholic liquors are prescribed, and shall enter therein, under the patient's name and address, the date of each prescription, and the name of the pharmacist filling the same."

Any licensed pharmacist or druggist may fill such prescription (1) if his name appears on the prescription in the physician's handwriting, and (2) if he has made application and received permit, Form 757, in accordance with the provisions of T. D. 2788, and (3) if he has qualified as retail liquor dealer, by the payment of special tax. No such prescription may be refilled.

"Druggists filling these prescriptions shall preserve in a separate, carefully guarded file, one copy of every prescription filled, and once a month shall transmit to the collector of internal revenue a list showing the names of the physicians, the names of the patients, and the total quantity dispensed to each patient during the month. These lists shall be subject to immediate examination and frequent review in the collector's office, and wherever there is indicated either (1) that a physician is prescribing more than normal quantities or (2) that any patient, through the services of one or more than one physician, is procuring more than a normal quantity, the collector shall report the facts to the Commissioner and the U. S. Attorney."

Pharmacists should refuse to fill prescriptions if they have any reason to believe that physicians are dispensing for other than strictly legitimate medicinal uses, or that a patient is securing, through one or more physicians, quantities in excess of the amount required for legitimate uses. "Wholesale or retail liquor dealers having stocks of wines or liquors on hand, may sell to pharmacists holding permit, upon receipt of order in Form 739 and in conformity with the provisions of T. D. 2788, until their present supplies are exhausted. Such orders may be filled from spirits tax-paid at the $6.40 rate."

"Wholesale or retail liquor dealers who are not licensed druggists or pharmacists will not be permitted to qualify, after their present stocks are exhausted, to deal in either beverage or non-beverage spirits."

"Non-beverage alcohol tax-paid at the rate of $2.20 per gallon may be used in filling prescriptions for spirits of alcohol so medicated or denatured in accordance with existing regulations as to be unfit for beverage use. In filling prescriptions for spirits or alcohol not so medicated or denatured as to render it unfit for beverage use, liquor tax-paid at the rate of $6.40 per gallon only must be used."

It would seem from the above rulings that the entire responsibility for the legitimate use of liquors was being thrown upon the shoulders of the druggists. Surely no sane druggist would attempt to handle this undesirable business under such conditions.

The Old Name for Windle. English royalty has resided at Windsor castle ever since Edward the Confessor built a hunting lodge just at the place where there came a great curve in the gentle river. In his "Child's Guide to London," Mr. A. A. Methley writes that the old name for the place was Windleshora or Windleshores, which may have meant "Winding shore," from the curve of the river at this point. Other say, however, that the word is derived from the Saxon "Windle," a willow tree.

Playing Cards. Although it is commonly reported that playing cards were invented in France in 1392 to divert Charles VI, D'Allemagne, a French writer on the subject mentions them as being in use in Belgium in 1379, and probably something analogous to them—marked discs or counters—have been employed in the East from remote antiquity. It is now usually thought that it was, in Italy playing cards were first made, about 1370, and at Venice.

PRICE OF BREAD WILL NOT INCREASE HERE AT PRESENT

That the price of bread will not be raised here, at least for a time, was a statement of local bakers, Wednesday, following the announcement that bread had gone up from 9 1/2 to 10 cents per pound loaf in Springfield.

The statement of L. H. Brandewie, president of the Barmer Baking Company, of Cincinnati, is cited by local bakers as covering the situation here. Mr. Brandewie said:

"Whether there will be an increase in the price of bread in Cincinnati and other American cities will depend on what price Europe is willing to pay for the new wheat being harvested in the United States."

"Bread is retailed, and has been for some time, at Cincinnati and most other cities, for ten cents a pound loaf. We bakers get 8 1/2 cents for it but there is scarcely any profit for us at 8 1/2 cents, with flour going up in price as it has been. If Europe pays more than $2.26 the guaranteed price for American wheat, it will mean that we will have to pay more for it; flour will advance and an increase in the price of bread would be the natural result. It remains to be seen what the foreign buyers are going to pay."

In Xenia, bakers are not getting the margin of profit that they are in other places as they sell their product for eight cents. They are fighting a raise now in the face of increased prices on all ingredients especially flour, and they will give no definite statement as to how long they can keep the prices on the present level.

Bakers are now figuring their profit margins as closely as possible, and in turn these profits are continually eaten up by an increased price in commodities.

In the hopes of higher prices, farmers held their $2.26 wheat last season until millers paid them as high as a 90 cent bonus on the grain, which naturally boosted the price of bread to the consumer.

FORMER BELLBROOK CITIZEN IS DEAD

Alexander L. Crowl, a native of Bellbrook, and for years a prominent resident of Dayton, died at the home of his son, Leon Crowl, 1009 Grand avenue, Dayton, Wednesday night, the result of apoplexy with which he was stricken a year ago, while visiting in Sheridan, Wyo.

Mr. Crowl was born in Bellbrook July 3, 1853. He married Miss Ida Soward in 1865, and shortly afterward they moved to Dayton. Mrs. Crowl, who with her husband, for years conducted a high class ready to wear and millinery store, died a few years ago.

In addition to his son, Mr. Crowl is survived by three brothers and two sisters. Private funeral services will be held Friday at 2:30 at the home, with Rev. Oliver Soward, a nephew of the deceased, officiating. Burial will be made in Bellbrook.

INVITES ALLIES TO MARCH INTO BUDAPEST

Milan, July 18.—Julius Karolyi, head of the anti-Bolshevik government in Hungary, has resigned and has been succeeded by Desidric Abraham who has requested the allies to march into Budapest, said a dispatch from Belgrade today.

It was not generally known that an anti-Bolshevik government existed in Hungary as Bela Kun, the red dictator, has been exercising all administrative powers at Budapest. Count Michael Karolyi was president of the Hungarian republic up to March 22, when he resigned opening the way for the Bolshevik coup.

ATTEMPT TO REDUCE THE COST OF LIVING

Paris, July 18.—The government's attempt to reduce the high cost of living by establishing cheap restaurants with fixed prices, doubling the number of government booths where food may be bought cheaply and organizing a campaign against speculation in food supplies, met with general approval except from the Socialists today.

The Socialist press demands the removal of all restrictions on importation of foodstuffs from the United States and other countries.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

The Dayton and Xenia Traction Company which proposes the building of an electric line to Dayton and also a branch line from Zimmerman, connecting Bellbrook, Spring Valley and the direction of Wilmington, is not favored here by a citizens committee of residents of Dayton and Main streets. The committee discourages the granting of a franchise to this company because it will connect Xenia with no point but Dayton, will bring no trade to Xenia, will carry to Dayton trade of Bellbrook, Spring Valley, New Burlington which have hitherto traded in Xenia; will not help defray expense of lightning Main and Dayton streets; offers probably nothing for the valuable franchise for 25 years.

Charlie Christie, a Xenia boy, who for a number of years has been identified with the newspapers of Cincinnati, recently severed his connection with the Commercial Tribune, of which he has been managing editor. He will probably locate in California.

Since Fred Kelly returned from camp at Goes, he seems to have a great desire to see the old camp, and has purchased a ten trip ticket between the two points. The boys say that owing to some attraction there Fred could scarcely tear himself away from the place.

While it sometimes seems that oratory is now a lost art, we are of the opinion that it is an art that never can be lost. We shall have great orators again. The names and the memories of Demosthenes, Cicero, Paul, Webster and Ingersoll are not forgotten, nor are they likely to be. While the human heart leaps with joy or sinks with sorrow, the orator's forum will be preserved and his power will endure.
